Edna McMillan wanted people to hear about Jesus. She encouraged Oklahoma Baptists to work together to share God's love with others. Today, the State Missions Offering carries her name and helps continue that mission.

MISSIONS ACTIVITY

Did you know our offerings are named after real people?

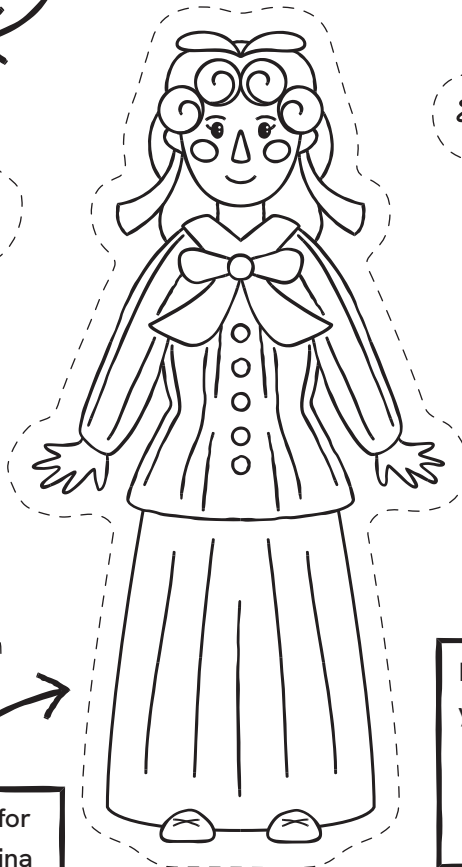

Annie Armstrong, Lottie Moon, and Edna McMillan loved the Lord and lived like it! Color them, cut them out, and learn about them as you play!

ANNIE ARMSTRONG

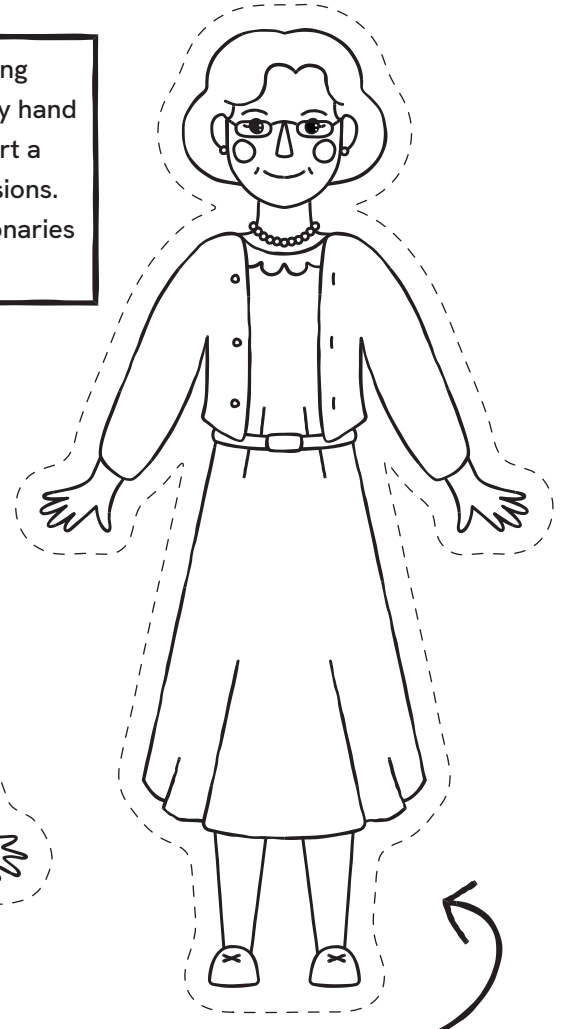

Annie Armstrong never got tired of doing good. She wrote thousands of letters by hand to support missionaries and helped start a whole group of women devoted to missions. Our Easter Offering, which helps missionaries in North America, is named after her.

LOTTIE MOON

Lottie Moon gave everything she had for others. She traveled all the way to China to tell people about Jesus, teaching there for almost 40 years. Our Christmas Offering, which helps missionaries around the world, is named after her.

EDNA MCMILLAN

Edna McMillan had a heart for giving. For years she encouraged Oklahoma Baptists to give generously so missionaries could share God's love. The State Missions Offering is named after her.

FUN FACT:

Lottie was only 4 feet 3 inches tall and Annie was 6 feet tall. That's almost 2 feet apart! Big and small, God used them both.
