Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma

SEVENTH SESSION AFTER CONSOLIDATION.

Shawnee, Okla., November 8, 1912.

1. The Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma, convened this day, Friday, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the church building of the Baptist church of Shawnee, Oklahoma, a large delegation being present.

2. The devotional service from 9:30 to 10 o'clock was conducted by T. F. Coe, who read John 15, Abiding in Christ, Bearing Fruit, Glorifying God.

3. Vice President C. Stubblefield called the Convention to order for business at ten o'clock. President A. J. Holt being absent from the state. In a brief address outlining the past history of the Baptists of the state and with reference to recent personal experience, he had learned to rejoice in the keeping power of God, and not to despise the day of small things. The heart of the Convention was thrilled and uplifted as the messengers pressed forward to give the hand of fellowship to this servant of God.

The Committee on Credentials was announced, L. W. Marks, W. A. McKinney and J. N. Edwards.

6. Addresses of welcome were given by J. H. Walker on behalf of the city and Rev. J. H. Ball on behalf of the churches, both addresses voicing the pleasure of the people, heartily welcoming the Baptists to their hearts and homes.

The response was made by E. D. Cameron on behalf of the Convention, who said Shawnee would be to the Baptists as Jerusalem to the Jews and as Athens to the Greeks, emphasizing the confidence of the Baptists in Shawnee and the Baptist University.

Song.—How Firm a Foundation.

7. The annual sermon was delivered by Rev. Wm. Crawford of Elk City, Okla. Scripture read, Col. First Chapter. Text: How sayest thou the Son of Man must be lifted up. Theme, the Uplifted Christ. Christ above all institutions of earth and the Universe itself. He was lifted up First, As a demonstration, Second, As an Attraction; Third, As a Revelation.

The Cross is the unveiling of God's love. The Cross erases color lines and culture lines. The Cross sums up the duty of the sinner and the obligation of the saved. Every sinner has a right to hear of the chance of his salvation.

Song.—The Way of the Cross Leads Home.

Announcements. Benediction by A. E. Baten.

First Day—Friday Afternoon.

8. Devotional service by D. N. Crane, who read Romans 8th, with comments.

9. Called to order by C. Stubblefield.

10. Report of the committee on Credentials, and it was voted that all who knew themselves to be messengers should take part in the organization.

11. C. Stubblefield was put in nomination for president and on vote the rules were suspended and he was elected by acclamation.

Song, Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow.

Judge J. W. Harreld and George W. Sherman were nominated for vice presidents. The rules were suspended, and these brethren elected by the secretary casting the ballot of the convention to that effect.

W. P. Blake and T. B. Harrell were elected secretaries of the convention the President of the Convention casting the ballot.

J. H. Stewart was elected Treasurer and J. H. Bolinger Auditor under suspension of the rules, the secretary casting the ballot.

J. C. Stalcup was put in nomination for Corresponding secretary and Superintendent of Missions, the rules were suspended, and elected by acclamation the large audience standing, while they joined in singing Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow.

L. W. Marks was elected Historical Secretary, the Secretary casting the ballot.

The officers elect were escorted to the platform and by request were introduced by Bro. Washburn.

The following visitors were recognized:

Dr. J. F. Love, Dallas; Dr. Howard Wayne Smith, Philadelphia; Dr. I. N. Clark, Kansas City; Mr. Richardson, Arkansas; Mr. Harland, Baptist Standard, Dallas; Dr. W. A. Wilson, Word and Way, Kansas City; Dr. Joe Jacobs, A. M. Bap. Pub. Society; Mrs. Cooper, Womans Work, Chicago; E. E. Lee, Dallas; Dr. Bruce Kinney, A. H. B. Home Mission Society, Topeka; Dr. J. M. Frost, Nashville.

12. The report of the Board of Directors was read by Secretary Stalcup, followed by his personal report. This was followed by the report on State Missions, being read by G. W. Sherman.

TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF EXECUTIVE BOARD 1912.

Another year, with its joys and sorrows; its sunshine and shadows; its successes and failures; its conflicts, with its attendant victories and defeats, and its wonderful opportunities and responsibilities, has gone into history.

With a feeling of deepest gratitude to our Heavenly Father for His matchless Grace and Blessings upon us and our work, throughout the entire year, we gladly bring you a report of the work entrusted to us one year ago.

Soon after the adjournment of the Convention the Board met and organized by electing Dr. Carter Helm Jones, chairman, and Rev. W. P. Blake, recording secretary, of the board.

When we came to the consideration of the tasks before us the Board was deeply touched with the weight of the responsibilities of the work entrusted to us by the Convention. The splendid victories of the past, the needs and marvelous opportunities of the present and the magnificent prospects of the future, were all challenging us to undertake a large "forward movement," while the deficit of last year, and the financial depression prevailing over the country, were appealing, quite loudly, for retrenchment.

Which should we do was the question confronting us? After thoughtful and prayerful consideration of the whole matter, with a strong faith in God, and with a confidence in the churches over the state, which was well nigh unbounded, justified by their loyalty and devotion to the work in past years, the Board was of the unanimous opinion that both safety and success were to be found in a distinct, but sane and conservative "forward movement," and the work was accordingly planned, for the year, on a basis of $42,500 for state missions. This being about $5,000 more than was done the preceding year.

Because of the continued, not to say, increased financial depression which prevailed over the country, especially during the first three-quarters of the year, the board, by extra conservatism, which at that time appeared to be wise, took very good care of the work, for the year appropriated only about $40,000 all told, including the deficit of the preceding year.

Mrs. Lena V. Stalcup was re-elected office secretary. The two Foreign Boards each contributing $200 towards her salary; and the amount of her salary and the salary of the Superintendent of Missions, were voted the same as last year.

Rev. W. D. Moorer was again re-elected S. S. Missionary and Brother A. G. Washburn General Missionary to the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians, and Brethren E. A. Wesson, J. L. Kellar and J. M. Wiley, were re-elected as district missionaries. All of them at the same salary as last year. Continuing our co-operation with our women in their distinctive work, a supplement of $200 each was voted to Miss Howell and Miss Curtis. No other general workers were employed until the end of the third quarter, at which time, on account of the increased calls from churches through their S. S. and B. Y. P. U. organizations, for help, in Teacher Training, Bible Conferences, Mission Study Class work and other important work of like character, Brother J. B. Rounds, was elected to the position made vacant by the going of Brother Ford from the state, last year;

A list showing all appointments and appropriations made during the year is attached to and made part of this report, to which reference is here made for details.

When considering and determining the general policy for the year the matter of strengthening the weak places in our denominational life, by helping weak churches to find, call, and maintain capable pastors, with living salaries, appealed to the Board and the Superintendent of Missions, so strongly, that instead of continuing to emphasize Evangelism, by employing State Evangelists, the Board decided to employ three District Missionaries to give all of their time to the building up of weak, discouraged churches, helping them in the important matter of finding capable pastors, and providing adequate salaries for them, with a view of making strong centers of evangelistic power of each church.

We do not mean, by this, to minimize the importance of Evangelism for that is the real source of growth for our churches and the kingdom, but as our churches are the centers of New Testament Evangelism, it is supremely important that they be cared for.

It is the opinion of your Board that this character of work is of such vital importance to the future success of all phases of work, as to demand the most careful consideration by this convention, and liberal appropriation of its funds by future boards. This is of great importance, especially in sections of the state where the District Association is too weak, or for any other reason is not doing that kind of work.

The policy of helping the District Association in paying their missionaries has been pursued again this year; and where the Association employs thoroughly competent men, to do either evangelistic work or to do well the kind of work just described, we commend this policy to the future Boards of this Convention, but only when competent men are employed. The work of our Associational missionaries when faithfully done, is supremely important.

At the end of the first quarter, on account of ill health, Brother C. W. Brewer, who served this Convention so well as treasurer, ever since its consolidation at Shawnee in 1906, offered his resignation, which was reluctantly accepted by the Board. We are glad, in this public way to express to this Convention, our very high appreciation of him and his services. Brother J. H. Stewart was unanimously chosen to fill the vacancy thus made, and his resignation as Auditor was offered and accepted, and Brother J. H. Bolinger of Oklahoma City was elected as Auditor.

G. W. Taft, who was planning to leave the state, resigned as a member of the Board, and J. F. Gettig, of Woodward, was chosen in his place. Brother J. W. Solomon resigned, because the churches of which he was pastor, applied for supplement to his salary, and the vacancy was filled by the election of T. A. Sheriff.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AND B. Y. F. U. WORK.

It is not possible, and perhaps not necessary to go into lengthy report of these two important phases of work as a special report upon each, will be made; but they have such an important influence upon the future as well as the present work of our churches that special attention is called to the extensive "teacher training work," Bible and Mission Study Class work, Training in Church Membership and other work of this character, which is being so effectively and extensively done in our churches, under the leadership and supervision of Brother Moorer and Brother Rounds. This work is growing rapidly in volume and in favor with all of the churches, which is evidenced by the fact, that many more calls for the services of these two brethren are coming in, than they can possibly supply.

ORPHAN'S HOME AND HOSPITAL WORK.

While we are deeply interested in these important phases of our work and find great pleasure in commending them to more favorable attention of our churches and hope they may receive larger financial support in the future, as each is placed in charge of another board, whose duty it is to look out for their special interests, and who will report to this convention, it is not necessary that detailed report should be made of this work.

INDIAN WORK.

This work, though always slow in development, has made decided progress this year, especially along the lines of Evangelistic work, Bible Study and giving, but as a separate report will be made upon this work details will not be mentioned in this report.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

Christian Education, under the Constitution of this Convention, is as essentially a part of its work, as Missions or S. S. work commanded by our Lord in the Great Commission, as either of those departments. It is to be feared that many of our churches and pastors do not fully appreciate this fact, and as a result, have never given it its proper place in the work of the churches. It is a fact, now well understood by all people, who have given serious thought to it, or who have had large observation, that no religious denomination can ever become great, or long remain strong and powerful, which fails to provide and maintain denominational schools of college rank. Our denomination in this state, however strong we may become along other lines of work, will not be any exception to this rule. We must build and maintain denominational schools or suffer immeasurably. We believe the time is here, when a broad, comprehensive, but sane and conservative educational policy should be adopted by this Convention, and lived up to, and supported heartily by, the churches of the state. A policy that will command the confidence and co-operation of the people all over the state. Such a policy must be progressive, and yet conservative; and so equitable in its adaptation to present educational conditions in the state, and rise so high above local sectionalism as to be able to best serve our cause for the whole state, while at the same time having due regard for all vested rights of our people and without undue bias for, or prejudice against, any locality.

In view of the fact, however, that each of our schools is placed by this convention, in the hands of a Board of Trustees, and our Educational interests, in general, put in the hands of an educational commission appointed by the Convention.

We will not enter into detail in this report. While it has not been proper, under our policies, for this Board to take any action upon the many educational problems confronting us during the year, nevertheless, we have been deeply interested in our schools, and in the greater question of Christian Education, and stand ready, while here in this Convention, as individual Baptists, to help work out such a policy, and as members of our churches, to render all assistance in our power, in carrying the policy into effect after returning home.

CHAPEL CAR.

We are glad to make grateful mention of the faithful and excellent services rendered, this year, by Bro. and Sister J. C. Killian, who have charge of the Chapel Car Evangel.

They have not had time to visit a large number of fields, but have blessed and greatly strengthened and helped our cause wherever they have been. Especially have they been inspirational and helpful to the work at Watonga, Ames and Okeene. While at Haskell and Pittsburg there stands a beautiful house of worship, each of which is largely the fruit of their labors. We hope that the Pub. So. will see their way clear to permit this car, manned by these capable workers, to remain in the state.

RELIGIOUS LITERATURE.

As there will also be a report upon this topic a discussion will not be entered into here as to its importance; but under this head, we wish, in this public way to express our high appreciation of the services given us by the Baptist Messenger and Baptist Worker, published in our own state. Baptist papers have never yet been given their rightful place in the thought and financial support of our people. In many instances, this has not been altogether the fault of the people, but in most cases the result of neglect on the part of many, and a failure to realize and appreciate the valuable services which the denominational paper renders.

We wish to call attention to the book recently published by the secretaries of several state conventions on the "Primacy of State Mission." This book contains the crystallized thought of eleven of the most experienced secretaries in Southern states, on this subject, and fills a long felt want in our Mission Study courses. It is written in short chapters with questions, at the close of each making it suitable for class study work. This book should be read by all pastors and membership as well.

HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

After another year's experience and observation, we are more than ever convinced that it is in the interest of both economy and efficiency to continue our plan of making the office of the Superintendent of Missions of the state, the center of all of our missionary activities for State, Home and Foreign Missions, and having all literature and appeals for Home and Foreign Missions (except periodicals) sent from this office. It is also important that all money given by all of the co-operating churches for either Home or Foreign Missions, should be sent to the office of the Superintendent of Missions, so that a record may be kept of what is being done, without having to wait for the end of the campaign and obtain this information from the co-operating Boards. It is not possible to intelligently conduct a campaign for this work, unless this is done.

The one who is in charge of a campaign of this kind, must know as the work progresses, what churches have given and how much they have given, or he cannot intelligently prosecute the work. We do not feel that it is necessary, in this state, to emphasize the importance of either Home or Foreign Missions in this report. for our people have passed that stage—the questions that concerns us most, How may it be done most effectively and at the least possible expenditure? Until a better way shall appear, we urge upon all pastors and churches to adopt the policy above outlined and co-operate harmoniously and heroically in carrying it into effect.

Summary.

During the year, we have had in our employ for part or all of the year, six general workers, whose salaries have been paid in full by convention and the following workers, whose salaries were paid in part by the Convention, to wit: Two Women, twenty District Associational Missionaries, eleven Indian Missionaries, the pastors of 215 weak churches. These persons have rendered valuable service, from which we tabulate the following:

Weeks of Labor	8,465
Churches Supplied	262
Outstations Supplied	127
Prayer Meetings Attended	6,550
Sermons Preached	21,862
Religious Visits	32,282
Baptisms Reported	3,202
Persons Received by Letter	2,912
S. S.'s Reported by Our Workers	240

In closing this report, we wish, for ourselves individually, and as representatives of all the co-operating churches of the state, to express, in this public way, our very high appreciation of the valuable services rendered to us by each and all of the several Boards and Societies, who have helped to make the achievements of the present year possible. We hope and believe that when the time comes again, under the adopted schedule to make offerings for the work of these various Boards, that our churches will manifest their continued appreciations of these services, by making more liberal contributions to the work which they represent.

Respectfully submitted.

C. STUBBLEFIELD, Acting Chairman.

J. C. STALCUP, Corresponding Secretary.

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT OF J. C. STALCUP, CORRESPONDING SECRETARY AND SUPERINTENDENT OF MISSIONS.

One year ago, for the ninth time, you greatly honored me by selecting me as your Corresponding Secretary and Superintendent of Missions. Never, for one moment, have I supposed that your purpose in electing me to this honorable position, was merely to do me honor; that, I have always supposed, was purely incidental, but regarded it as a distinguished and unmerited honor, which has been greatly appreciated.

As the years have come and gone, and I have learned more and more of the service which I was expected to render, I have felt more keenly the weight of the responsibilities of the position.

The present year's work was begun under very unfavorable conditions. Confronted with a large deficit and the depressing conditions prevailing over the country; lines of credit reduced at the banks; many of our churches pastorless; many others about to become so for want of adequate support, the outlook was anything but encouraging. As the time approached for the first meeting of the Board, when the basis for the year's work would be fixed, expecting that I should be called upon to express an opinion as to what the basis should be, I gave serious and thoughtful consideration to the whole matter. I thought of the many victories of the past—the discouraging surroundings of the present, and the glorious opportunities for service, and I gave it as my opinion that our safety and success would be found in a sane, conservative, but distinctly forward movement—that there was both danger and defeat in retrenchment. This proved to be in harmony with the views of the Board and the work was planned as appears in their report.

In all to the work of the year, I have sought to carry out the expressed will of the Convention, and the directions of the Executive Board. Each year's experiences, convinces me more and more of the importance of having and rigidly enforcing a schedule which should be changed as infrequently as the changing conditions of our work will permit. I am glad to report that our churches, pastors and other workers are becoming more interested in the schedule and realizing the importance of working by it.

APPORTIONMENTS.

The importance of an equitable distribution between the churches and associations of the state, of the amount which is to be raised for State, Home and Foreign Missions, which we call Apportionments, is becoming more apparent to our people, and its value was plainly manifest in the results of our campaigns this year. That we have not yet reached anything like perfection in making these apportionments, is freely admitted. I have no doubt but that some churches were apportioned too high—under present conditions—(not many) some others, perhaps too low—but no serious harm came to those who were apportioned too high, for it was well understood by churches and pastors, that these amounts were only suggestions and were subject to such changes as the churches might think best. Some churches let the apportionment stand as it was given, and made an honest effort to give the amount asked, and failed, in part; others changed the amount to what they thought it ought to be—(some raising and others lowering the amount). While still others let it stand as it was, and as it was intended to be, as a minimum amount, below which they were unwilling to give under any conditions, and then made a heroic effort to do all they could, in many instances going far beyond the apportionment.

It is my opinion that the contributions from our churches this year for State, Home and Foreign Missions would have been far below what it is without the work of this apportioning committee. It is to be hoped that this plan will be continued, and the churches and pastors urged to co-operate heartily with the Superintendent of Missions in making it effective. This plan, like all others, can be perfected and made effective only by persistent effort and co-operation by churches throughout the state. While it is admitted freely that the right to raise or lower the amount must be left to each church, it is important that this right be exercised with great care and with due regard to the total amount, which the state has undertaken to raise for these different objects; for if one should reduce the amount and some other fail to raise theirs in proportion, there will be a net loss sustained by the whole. It will be found helpful to your Superintendent of Missions, in planning and leading the work, if each church will take whatever action they deem wise to make, upon the apportionment, at an early date as possible and advise him of such action, so that he may know in advance of each campaign, what to expect from each church. * *

Organization and Co-operation.

The matter of organizing the forces by associations, and co-operating with them in enlisting all of our churches in our work, thus helping to create an associational spirit in each and all of them, which shall manifest itself in an effort to excel others in service has received due consideration this year. This was an important factor in achieving the splendid financial results of the year and helps to explain the roll of honor, on which is found the names of several of our associations.

Suggestions to Persons and Churches When Asking for Help From Our Mission Funds—Important.

1 BEFORE making application to the Board, canvass thoroughly your ENTIRE MEMBERSHIP, getting each and all of them to do all they can, reasonably, towards the expense of the church, including pastor's salary and then ask for as small an amount as they can get along with.

The Board is expected to SUPPLEMENT only what the church CANNOT do alone. See that the FORMAL application is READ to the church in CONFERENCE and have the church VOTE on how much they are willing to ask the Board for. This is sometimes neglected.

Grouping Churches.

2. Where churches are to have less than all-time service, it is VERY IMPORTANT for near-by churches to join and call the same pastor. Some churches have been doing that in a most beautiful spirit, which has proven helpful to the pastor, the church and all phases of the work; it should be encouraged by all—it saves valuable time and expense of travel, which is lost when pastors go long distance to churches they are to serve. In the future, this will have much weight with the Board in considering applications for help.

ALL-TIME CHURCHES.

3. It is important NOT to undertake to go to all-time service too early if you are depending upon the Board for a large supplement to enable you to do it. The scarcity of men and money makes it necessary for the Board to be conservative in this. In many cases it is better to get along with HALF-TIME service for a while, with a capable pastor with an adequate salary, than to undertake to have ALL-TIME service without a living salary for the pastor, or a less capable one and then perhaps lose him for want of adequate support and be compelled to return to half-time, greatly disheartened.

Reaching Self-Support.

4. Under ordinary conditions churches receiving help from the Board this year will be expected to manage to get along with less help next year. NOT by making the pastor's salary LESS but by assuming a larger proportion of it, asking the Board for less each year until self-support is reached. This is for the best interest of the church and will enable the Board to help other fields where the need is just as great and the church just as worthy—THIS IS SUPERLATIVELY IMPORTANT.

Promptness.

5. Have all of this well done and the application in the hands of the Superintendent of Missions by the last day of October at the LATEST—EARLIER if possible. Otherwise it will NOT be considered and acted upon by the Board at the first meeting of the year, in November. This is important to YOU.

J. C. STALCUP, Superintendent.

At the time of writing it is impossible to forecast just what the result of the final campaign will be, as so many of the co-operating churches have not yet reported. At the present we lack just $6,500 (the amount of last year's deficit)—of having enough money to meet all obligations. I am confidently expecting that a large part, if not all, of this amount will be brought to me at the convention and that we will yet turn this threatened defeat into a most glorious victory by meeting all of our obligations, and may begin the new year unhampered by debt. If this shall be done, the future of our work will be radiant with hope and every phase of our convention work will take on new life.

During the year I have traveled 16,049 miles, made 100 addresses; written 33 articles for publication and there has been written and mailed from the office 12,279 letters and postals in the interest of the work.

In closing this report I wish to express to each and every worker in the state, all of whom have been so kind to me in so many ways, and whose loyalty and devotion to me and my leadership has made the splendid achievements of the past possible, my warmest love and sincere gratitude. May God's richest blessing abide on you and yours during the coming year.

To those who have not helped (and there are a large number of such churches and individuals) I will say: We have been denied the pleasure of your fellowship in the service and you have lost the joy and blessings that come to those who toil and suffer for Christ's sake.

REPORT OF STATE MISSIONS.

To the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma:

Dear Brethren:

Your Committee on State Missions would hasten to give expression of gratitude to God, the giver of all blessings, for the unprecedented successes that have attended the efforts of the State Mission Board this past year. Beginning the year with an embarrassing debt as a result of crop failures in the state, the Board, with great wisdom and commendable conservatism and a faith that could not retrench, although the treasury was empty, the fields parched, and purses depleted, yet trusting in God, entered the year's work heroically.

A detailed statement of the year's work is not needed here. We wish to heartily commend the Board's policy of co-operating in the matter of Associational Mission work, thus binding together the mission interests of the entire state.

The committee would also commend the earnest efforts of our corresponding secretary to secure the "every member canvass."

We would recommend that the pastors assist and co-operate in this effort, without which its attainment will be impossible.

Your committee would also recommend that the pastors and churches should be more prompt in taking their collections and reporting the same, thus lightening the strain and burdens of the closing days of the conventional year.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. W. SHERMAN, Chairman.

13. On motion to adopt discussion of these reports was set for tonight session.

14. Pastors coming to the state during the past year were introduced: C. E. Holt, H. R. North, J. H. Beck, L. B. Edwards, L. L. Price, Jno. S. Bridges, A. V. Pendleton, R. H. Johns, M. W. Steele, W. A. Robberson, T. H. Teall, Percy G. Carter, F. L. Hall, J. E. Billington, W. J. Rogers, W. F. Wisdom, J. A. Lowery, O. L. Smith, J. R. Wasson, Grant Chambers, B. H. Davidson, T. B. New, W. A. Mason, J. H. Gardner, and Missionary Miss Mary Register.

Dr. J. M. Frost was given opportunity to speak words of greeting.

Dr. I. N. Clark was called to the platform for a few words of greeting.

J. H. Randall, of Bacone College was introduced.

15. On motion voted fraternal greetings be sent to the Texas Baptist Convention, and the Secretary was so instructed. Message Phil. 3.

Announcements.

On motion voted that the question of the time of the meeting of the Convention be left with the Board of Directors.

Adjourned. Prayer by Brad Hayes.

First Day—Friday Night.

16. Devotional service led by J. E. Billington, of Duncan.

17. Consideration of the reports on state work. Bro. Stalcup led in the discussion. G. W. Sherman emphasized the large amount of work accomplished by the Missionaries. G. M. Harrell stressed the importance of the work in smaller towns and the country surrounding. W. A. Hamlett rejoiced in the successful work of the year. J. E. McClurkin would help co-operation of pastors with the Secretary. W. W. Chancellor, gave a word of caution as to self satisfaction, the danger of it. J. H. Hawkins urged that the preacher be fearless in speaking for the work. E. A. Wesson is for advance in matters spiritual that we may uphold progress that is not measured by money. Many others wished to speak, but the time limit was reached and the reports were adopted.

Song, The Ninety and Nine.

18. Report on Orphan Home Work was read by Supt. McKinney, and on motion to adopt was supported by Bro. McKinney. A large debt now rests on the Home. That this debt might be provided for the large audience showed their desire in putting up in cash and pledges, $6,662.50. The report was adopted.

Oklahoma City, Okla., 11-5-12.

To the Board of Directors of the Baptist Orphans' Home:

Dear Brethren:—

The Convention is here. The Baptist hosts are coming up from the different quarters of the state to hear the gladsome reports of the work of the Kingdom. With the many interests that have engaged the minds of our people in the furtherance of the Kingdom of Christ, and in obedience to His Divine commands to preach the gospel to every creature, ours is no small part of that great obligation. Included in the same gospel that brings life and light to the lost world is the sublime principle of sympathy that reached forth the hand to care for and protect the helpless and homeless. This phase of the gospel, my brethren, is committed as a trust to this Board appointed at our last convention. That you have done your duty faithfully, loyally, and conscientiously, you know.

I congratulate you, by brethren, as a Board, on your loyalty to this noble work committed to your trust, and happy to bring to you my sixth report as Superintendent of the Baptist Orphans' Home.

During these six years varied has been our experiences. They have been years of sunshine, and years of shadows, of laughter and song, years of tears and years of smiles, but the smiles and the light and the sunshine have far surpassed the shadows and tears. God has graciously blessed us as an institution.

During the year we have received fifteen children, and placed out in good homes eleven. The health of the children has been good. No seriousness sickness, and at present report all of them are well and happy.

In some particulars this year has been fraught with more anxiety and deep concern upon the part of the Superintendent than any previous year, caused by the extreme financial pressure that is on the state at large. We entered this year with a larger debt than at any year hitherto, but am happy to report with a larger debt than current expenses at this report is smaller by half than the debt of this report one year ago. Regardless of the stringency of the times not for one day have our children gone hungry or cold, and today they are as healthy a crowd of children as you will find anywhere in the state.

As was ordered by the convention on last year, our Board in its several meetings has considered the advisability of selling our present property, but in their judgment, with the value of property at its minimum, it would be a great loss to sell at the present time, and have, therefore, in their judgment acted wisely in not offering our present property for sale. This property is located five miles north of the center of Oklahoma City. It is worth at the present time about $50,000, but with normal conditions of the country restored it would easily sell for $75,000.

The Future.

We turn our faces to the future, which is full of promise for us, with increased faith that the Father of the orphans' will continue to smile upon us and that our Baptist people will rally to the support of this Christly institution. November and December, the regular schedule months for our Orphans' Home, are here. During the next year we must raise over and above current expenses $15,000 to meet our building debt. This debt comes due the first of next November. I recommend to this Board that if possible this amount be taken in pledges at this convention, to be paid in not later than the 1st of September, 1913, and that each member of our Board as much that lieth in him as possible to assist the Superintendent wherever he may, so that next year we shall be able to report our Orphan's Home clear of all indebtedness.

Let us not forget the great trust that is committed to our hands. Let us bring all our powers to bear in building an institution whose influence shall bless the coming generation. I repeat that no institution can be builded on small ideas. Let us pray for an enlarged vision and grace and faith to mett every obligation as it shall come.

Attached to this report you will find the financial statements of all moneys received and disbursed, together with all vouchers.

PSALM FOR THE HELPLESS.

He that turneth from the road to rescue another,
 Turneth toward his goal;
 He shall arrive in due time by the footpath of mercy,
 God will be his guide.

He that taketh up the burden of the fainting,
 Lightneth his own load;
 The Almighty will put His arms underneath him,
 He shall lean upon the Lord.

He that speaketh comfortable words to mourners,
 Healeth his own heart:
 In his time of grief they will return to remembrance,
 God will use them for balm.

He that taketh care of the sick and wounded,
 Watcheth not alone;
 There are three in the darkness together,
 And the third is the Lord.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE BAPTIST ORPHANS' HOME OF THE STATE OF OKLAHOMA.

Dear Brethren:—

In compliance with our duty as trustees of the Baptist Orphans' Home of the State of Oklahoma, we present to you our annual report concerning the condition and progress of the work entrusted to us. We are constrained to glorify God in remembrance of His signal blessings upon us during the past year. The work in some respects has been unusually difficult because of the financial pressure, but regardless of this the contributors to our home have done nobly. The interest in our home is now more general through the state than ever before. We have cared for most of the year: seventy-three children, and there have been received during the year fifteen children into the home and there have been placed out in good Christian homes eleven children. The health of all has been phenomenal when considering the number together. There has been no serious sickness in the home this year. There are at present fifty-eight children in the home, fifty-two of whom are now attending the public school at University Heights, located three-fourths of a mile from the home.

Our Board of Trustees and our Superintendent, Brother McKinney, are delighted with the progress that is being made by the children of our home in public school work, and the teachers in the school where our children are attending cannot be praised too highly for the interest manifested by them in their splendid instruction to our Baptist Orphan children.

We desire to make honorable mention of Dr. W. E. Dicken, the home physician, who has so loyally ministered to our children, also to our noble president, Brother J. B. Garrison, who has stood by the home with his sympathy and financial assistance during the entire year.

We call special attention that the State Department of Charities has recently visited the home and has made a personal inspection of all sanitary conditions therein and has issued a certificate and has caused the Great Seal of Oklahoma to be placed thereon, certifying that all conditions prevailing therein are first-class.

Your Board of Trustees of the Baptist Orphans' Home have received from our Superintendent his annual report, and we desire to attach the same herewith to our report, and make the same a part of our report to this convention. This report of Brother W. A.

McKinney has been gone over by us carefully, and we find the following summary of financial conditions for the year:

Total amount of moneys received	$10,639.14
Total paid out	8,128.69
Received borrowed money during the year	726.31
Paid out borrowed money during the year	726.31
Paid on $960.00 note	660.00
Paid on interest and building note	1,850.45
Total amount received during the year from all sources	11,365.45
Total amount paid out	11,365.45

We call special attention to the exact condition of the finances of our state home at this time and the building note due October the 29th, 1913, $15,000.00. Bill payable, note at bank, $300.00, J. B. Garrison's building note, $500.00; Foster & Gerlach note, $300.00; helpers in home, $800.00; Superintendent's salary, $833.33; current expenses not paid, $1,215.00; total amount of indebtedness, $18,948.33.

The members of this Board have been pained many times during the year because of their inability to care for the orphan children of the state. The various members of this Board and our Superintendent have had at least four hundred applications to care for orphans which we have been compelled to turn down because of our financial inability to feed, clothe and educate these orphans.

We submit that we have perhaps lost a great opportunity to honor our God, and to build up a great orphanage in our state.

Respectfully submitted,

J. B. GARRISON, President.

PHILOS S. JONES, Secretary,

We do hereby certify that we have this day examined all books and accounts of all moneys received and paid out by Brother W. A. McKinney, Superintendent of Baptist Orphans' Home, for the year ending November 1, 1912, and we have found the above and foregoing statement true and correct, this November 7, 1912.

Second Day--Saturday.

20. Devotional service, led by Bro. Hamilton of Marietta.

21. Called to order by the President.

22. Telegram from Texas State Convention in response, was received: The Texas Convention is rejoicing with you. Phil. 2:1, 2 and 3.

23. Following announcements, amendments to the Constitution offered last year were considered, and after some discussion were referred to a committee.

24. The Report of the Educational Commission was read by A. E. Baten, and on motion to adopt, Judge Harreld, of Ardmore, was asked to speak in support of the Report, and following his address the report was adopted.

REPORT OF EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION.

We, the Baptists of Oklahoma, have come to a great crisis in our educational work in the state. That we as a people are to build up a strong denominational life in this state, your commission has not the slightest doubt. The present outlook may not seem bright, but all that we know of Baptist history justifies us in taking an optimistic view of the situation.

Our new state is emerging from infancy into youth, and though errors incident to youth have been committed in our efforts to further the cause of denominational education, we feel that we are now in a position to profit by these very errors, and to avoid like errors in the future. But, if we would avoid youthful indiscretion we must be men and act like men.

If there is great need at any point in our Baptist affairs, of wise counseling, discreet plannings, and constructive building, that point has been reached in our educational work; and Baptists cannot afford to treat lightly a matter of such immense magnitude.

We must now adopt some fixed policy with regard to this work. This policy should be simple and unique, and the language used in defining it should be perspicuous and emphatic. And having committed ourselves to such a policy, we should adhere to it with unshaken tenacity until substantial results shall have been achieved. If policies may be adopted in our convention and Board and then lightly abandoned and utterly disregarded, there is nothing to be gained by having either conventions or boards. We would better stay at home and save the expense of attending these councils if, after all, we expect to go right on in our individual ways without any sort of regard or respect for our organized work. No school is entitled to or shall have the support of this convention unless the functionaries of said school respect and abide by the expressed will of the convention and its boards.

Your commission, realizing the need of adopting a policy to govern us in our future educational work did, at its meetings, July 8, 1912, adopt the following resolutions which we hereby present to the convention for its adoption:

Whereas, we believe the time has come for the statement of a definite educational policy for our state, therefore, be it resolved:

That in pursuance of such a policy we make the following recommendations to the Baptist State Convention:

FIRST: The establishment of ONE, and only one, great, thoroughly equipped co-educational college, and that any effort to establish any other co-educational college or university be discouraged.

SECOND: That when such a college as this is established, that the Oklahoma Baptist College at Blackwell, be converted into a Baptist College for Young Women.

THIRD: That we encourage the establishment of high-grade academies at such strategic points in the state as necessities may require and the wisdom of the convention may dictate.

Whereas, the Southwest Baptist Academy, one of our co-related schools located at Hastings, has recently been moved to Mangum, and

Whereas, the curriculum of said school has been raised to that of a Junior College,

We recommend that an exception be made in regard to said school, and that it be allowed to continue as a Junior College.

We recommend that the convention confer upon this commission definite and certain powers, to the end that it shall have the same authority in educational matters that the Board of Directors now has in matters assigned to it by the convention and constitution; provided that nothing herein contained shall in any wise conflict with the authority of the Board of Trustees of our respective schools as now defined.

The report of the Oklahoma Baptist College was read by President Baten.

25. On motion to adopt, at the request of Dr. Baten, Judge J. S. Burger of Blackwell, was invited to speak to the report, which he did. Following this Dr. Baten spoke of the pressing obligations now resting upon the schools urging immediate action in providing funds for payment. Pledges and cash were taken and much interest shown. This continued to the end of the morning session, the hour for adjournment having been reached.

Prayer by T. G. Cunningham.

Second Day—Saturday Afternoon.

26. Devotional service led by J. D. Harling.

27. Bro. Wolf was given time to speak of our beloved Bro. D. B. Ray, and to put on sale some 25 copies of Baptist Church Succession, which were readily disposed of.

The report on Oklahoma Baptist College was adopted.

TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF OKLAHOMA STATE BAPTIST COLLEGE.

To the Baptist Convention of Oklahoma, Dear Brethren:—

It is a genuine pleasure to the President and Board of Trustees of Oklahoma State Baptist College to present to you the twelfth annual report of your own and only educational institution of college rank.

The college year closing June the 4th, 1912, was indeed a strenuous year. It was a year of hard work under many difficulties; but it was also a period marked by evidences of the Master's good will toward the institution.

The enrollment of students during the year recorded a hundred and fifty names. Two students were graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts; one received the degree of Bachelor of Music; one was awarded a degree in drawing and painting; two diplomas were granted in the School of Business; seven were given diplomas in the Academy, and upon two were conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

During the summer months the President and Dean prosecuted a vigorous campaign in the interests of the college.

The twelfth annual session opened September the 8th. In the matter of attendance, the college is much in advance of its record a year ago. At this time last year, we had enrolled a hundred and eight students. We now have on our enrollment over one hundred and fifty. A finer set of boys and girls we never saw. Not a single case of discipline has marred their records. Matters of administration move smoothly. Nowhere can be found a finer spirit of co-operation among Trustees, Faculty and students. Another matter worthy of much gratulation is the fact that the citizens of Blackwell have manifested and do manifest the most beautiful loyalty to the college. Certainly they have proved their fidelity to the institution in many ways. Most especially in the matter of sacrifice. The people of Blackwell are not selfish, unless it be considered selfish to make sacrifices, even to poverty, in order to take care of a sacred trust committed to them—unless it be selfishness in a soldier that causes him to stay by his banner through the heat and shock of battle rather than abandon the sacred ensign to be carried away by the enemy—unless selfishness may be charged up to the sailor who stays at his post on a sinking ship and works the pumps rather than betake himself to the lifeboat for his own personal safety.

We must not fail to mention a very significant fact relating to Blackwell's loyalty to the college. When the messengers from the Blackwell Baptist Church returned home from the convention last year and reported that no money had been raised at the convention for current expenses, there was sore disappointment on the part of the citizens. A meeting was held in the Commercial Club rooms for the purpose of discussing the situation. The fact stared the meeting in the face that the college would have to suspend before the close of the fall term unless help came speedily. A great mass meeting was planned. A thousand people assembled in the auditorium of the Methodist Church; stirring speeches were made, and a great collection was taken, supplementing one already taken up in the Commercial Club rooms. Twenty-five hundred dollars in cash was raised, and so we went on through the first term without a debt for current expenses. This would have been an impossibility without the timely help from Blackwell.

IT IS A FACT WORTHY OF GREAT EMPHASIS THAT THE CITIZENS OF BLACKWELL, A LARGE MAJORITY OF WHOM ARE NOT BAPTISTS, AND SOME OF WHOM ARE NOT PROFESSED CHRISTIANS, SAVED OKLAHOMA STATE COLLEGE FROM UTTER RUIN.

Now, beloved brethren of Oklahoma State Baptist Convention, we deeply regret to tell you that this institution of yours, dedicated to Christian education, is in jeopardy.

Oklahoma State Baptist College in Peril

The Baptist people of the state of Oklahoma have at Blackwell a college property worth a hundred thousand dollars. This property has been accumulated through a dozen years. The institution was founded by the Baptist Convention before Oklahoma became a state.

Before the incumbency of the present administration, and within a period of eighteen months, heavy mortgages were placed upon this property. Prior to the placing of these mortgages, the property was free from financial incumbrance. Now heavy debts, aggregating thirty-five thousand dollars, have created distressing conditions which bid fair to cause the property to be snatched out of Baptist hands and possibly fall into possession of the one great ecclesiastical enemy of the Baptist people. And this may happen within a very short time. There is no sort of question that the very life of the college is seriously threatened. Law suits to foreclose mortgages have been instituted and are being vigorously pushed. The amount involved is twenty-two thousand dollars ($22,000). Besides this, a chattel mortgage of eight hundred dollars is crowding us to the wall. A week ago last Saturday night, the President of the college was called up over the telephone and notified that the holders of this mortgage would be at the dormitory at eight o'clock Monday morning, and that they would certainly take away all the furniture in the building. It was only by earnest entreaty and nice promises that we induced them to wait with us till after the meeting of this convention. We promised them that we would certainly pay them by that time. Be it said in behalf of these creditors that this debt is long past due, and they have waited patiently until they cannot, they declare, wait any longer. Moreover, there are two notes—college notes—endorsed by the Trustees whose face value amounts to five hundred dollars, that are now due and must be paid within a very few days, or serious financial trouble will be the result. We cannot stave off the crash much longer.

Beyond all question, a crisis has come in the educational affairs of the Baptists of Oklahoma—such a crisis as we have never before known.

Not only is our college property in peril, but Baptist Honor Is at Stake.

Fidelity to each other as members of a great Christian Brotherhood demands that we take care of this institution, and that right speedily. Suppose we allow the college to go down—suppose we stand afar off and witness the tragedy of the smashing up of this school which Baptist foundation-builders of this state established in the days of their heroic struggles to plant Christ's banner in the virgin soil of this young empire of the Middle West. How could we, in that case, ever again look one another in the face and pretend to be seriously in earnest in any denominational undertaking? All these years Baptists have been sacrificing for this college, their own foster child. Faithful Trustees have been in service all the while; competent faculties have been kept at the post of duty; aspiring young men and women have been taught; an alumni body has been formed; our sons and daughters have believed that it was an honor to bear baccalaureate degrees from this splendid institution, and they have learned to love O. B. C. with an undying affection. Now, this college, founded in hope, consecrated by prayer, borne up by breaking hearts, bathed in burning tears, is in great peril. The snapping of the heart-cords of the college is an imminent menace. And what would be the shock to our people should the news go out that this child of the convention had been ruthlessly abandoned by its own foster parents and allowed to perish? Could our people ever be rallied again around any educational undertaking? Could they ever have confidence in any Baptist school to be located elsewhere?

But we cannot believe that the Baptists of this good state will so far forget themselves as to allow one hundred thousand dollars worth of splendid school property to be alienated from our people.

There is a phase of this subject far more serious than anything heretofore mentioned. As a matter of common honesty, Baptists are bound to take care of this situation. We have been speaking of debts. Who owe those debts? The Baptists of Oklahoma. For what did they make these debts? To establish and maintain a Baptist college. To whom do we owe these debts? To persons who have taken money out of their pockets and lent it to the Baptists to put into college property; to material men who have furnished lumber, brick and hardware to put up these buildings; to merchants who have advanced supplies to keep the college agoing; to furniture dealers who have put the best of furniture within these superstructures; to faithful teachers who have worked hard as instructors in this institution. Why did these many persons furnish us, on a credit, so much money, material and service? Because they wanted to help along a good work, and because they believed that Baptists were honorable people, and as such they would pay their honest debts. To allow this institution to go down would be to make it impossible that any of these innocent parties who have trusted us should be paid all that which we so justly owe them. A forced sale now would not realize enough to meet outstanding obligations. In fact many creditors are entirely unprotected. In other words, to abandon the college at this juncture would mean that the Baptists of the state have deliberately gone into the business of repudiating honest debts. It would imply that the Baptist people, with malice aforethought, have purposely planned to deceive and outrageously work those who have trusted them. Can anybody imagine that, in such a case, Baptist credit would afterwards be worth a cent among business men in this state? Suppose we should knowingly and wilfully do such a disgraceful thing and then undertake to build up another Baptist school at another place—does anybody suppose that sensible men could ever be induced to put money into such an enterprise? We greatly fear that business men would begin to say to us: "Gentlemen of a dishonored faith and a discredited profession, you cannot work us any longer. Neither can we find suitable words with which to express our utter lack of confidence in any of your undertakings or loud pretensions."

What Will Our People Do?

We think we know. We really do believe that we know the Baptist people. Some of us have worked in our denominational harness long enough to have a pretty good idea of what Baptists can and will do when they wake up, put on their working clothes, and look a great situation squarely in the face. Baptists are not dishonest and they are not cowards. They are not given to the abandonment of a great cause; nor are they in the habit of repudiating honest debts. They may be slow to take in the enormous magnitude of just such a situation as that of our educational affairs in this state. But we verily believe that the time has come when our people are going to rally to this cause as they have never rallied before, and that the salvation of educational work in the state will be the result.

We recommend that the months of January and February be set apart for a vigorous campaign in the interests of our educational work, and that every church be asked to take a cash offering for this work during these months.

Whereas suits have been instituted for the foreclosure of liens and mortgages against the convention's building property at Blackwell, Resolved that funds should be raised as rapidly as possible to pay off said indebtedness; that, when the institution shall have been freed from all legal financial encumbrances the charter of the college be so changed as to make it impossible hereafter to mortgage any of the property now included in campus and buildings, except by order of the Educational Commission or this Convention.

28. On motion voted that consideration of reports on Education be continued at this hour.

29. Report of Southwest Baptist Academy, now a junior college, was read by Dean Crego, and on motion to adopt, was discussed by Geo. W. Sherman, at the request of President Hawkins, and adopted.

REPORT OF SOUTHWEST BAPTIST COLLEGE.

To the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma:

We rejoice in the favor of God which enables us to report the most favorable conditions and outlook that Southwest Baptist College has ever had. We have been unable to secure data on which to make a report of the conditions of the school before it was transferred to Mangum. In April, 1912, it became evident that it would be impossible for the school to continue till the close of the year, unless some arrangements could be made to meet pressing financial obligations. The President had resigned. The teachers had received no salary, and none was in sight. Some brethren were on the notes which were due, the payment of which would drive them to bankruptcy. The citizens of Hastings had done all that justice to themselves would permit them to do to care for the school. Never did a people grapple more loyally and heroically with a difficult situation than did the people of Hastings and the trustees of the school in their efforts to save the college to the Baptists.

A meeting of the Trustees was called to consider what was best to be done. The whole situation was carefully and prayerfully gone over. "What will the Lord have us to do?" was the united prayer of all members present. It was the unanimous decision of the Board and the citizens of Hastings that the school ought to be saved to the Baptists, and that the only way to save it was to get some city to assume the payment of all current expenses and take over the school. The field was carefully studied, and Mangum was unanimously chosen as the place, provided it could be induced to receive it.

When the matter was presented to the Baptist Church and citizens of Mangum and against their first impressions, they were urged to accept the school, they raised $3,300 and paid it to the Board of Trustees of Southwest Baptist College, on two conditions:

First: That they would be responsible for no other indebtedness of the school, most of which is covered by mortgages on the property; and Second: That they would be allowed to teach at least two years of college work.

In addition to the $3,300, the Baptists of Mangum raised $20,000.00 to complete the magnificent church building, which they generously give to the school, rent free, until buildings for the school shall be completed. No denominational school in this state has a more satisfactory and commodious building for their work. All the necessary equipment for the courses offered this year has been purchased and is in place. J. L. H. Hawkins was elected President, and H. P. Crego, Dean.

Beginning June first an active campaign for students was begun, with the result that the present enrollment is 135 above the kindergarten, which has an enrollment of 27. Practically all of the 135 students are of college and academic grade. A large number have indicated their intentions of entering the school at once, and many more will enter at the beginning of the second semester, January 21st, 1912. A Business Department will be opened January 1st, and several have already enrolled for this department.

No campaign for funds could be made on account of the conditions laid down by the Educational Commission, which made it impossible for our representatives to more than make expenses out of their share of the money raised.

The following is a report of the Financial conditions of the school since it was transferred to Mangum, as made by T. M. Overton, Treasurer:

Financial Report of Southwest Baptist College to Nov. 1, 1912.

Collections to date		$4,670.90
To teachers' salary	$1,156.50
To janitor	38.50
To freight and incidentals	87.46
To interest	287.77
To J. L. H. Hawkins, incidentals	82.10
To Trustees at Hastings	3,300.00	$ 4,643.33
To balance		$ 27.57

30. The report on Baptist University was read by Geo. E. McKinnis, and on motion to adopt, by request, E. D. Cameron spoke to the report. In the discussion following, the time for considering the report was extended ten minutes, when the report was adopted, the large audience rising to their feet, to join in singing, Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow.

REPORT OF BAPTIST UNIVERSITY.

Dear Brethren:—

We submit this our annual report:

In making this report, and in the discharge of our manifold duties as Trustees of the University of Oklahoma, we are not now, nor have we at any time been unmindful of the fact that the University is the child of the convention, born out of matured thought and deliberation. It is your undertaking, the management of its affairs only, were committed to our hands, and we have wrought the best we know in the discharge of this most sacred trust. However, in this respect we are not slow, nor are we unwilling to acknowledge our many mistakes. Still we do claim that we have at all times endeavored to do the right as we saw right, and have always been willing and ready to give an account of our stewardship.

University Property.

The campus of the University contains sixty acres of land, to which we have an absolute title in fee simple. Its elevation is high and sightly, and it is not to be surpassed as suitable grounds on which to build a great school. The administration building is about one-half completed. It is located on the highest point of the campus, overlooking the entire city and surrounding country. The design and construction of the building are of the most modern appointment, and when completed will be one of the finest buildings of its kind in the Southwest.

The Board has every assurance from the citizens of Shawnee that in a short time the work on the administration building will be renewed and the work finished at the very earliest possible moment.

Faculty.

The selection of the Faculty was entrusted to President Carroll, and approved by the Board. These men and women were fitted for this work and showed the very highest degree of loyalty, zeal and forbearance that could possibly be shown under the conditions. Almost everyone of them has expressed not only a willingness to return to the work of this great school, but has manifested an anxiety to do so.

The Student Body.

It is well to state that the patriotism, devotion and loyalty shown by the two hundred students of the University was something akin to the marvelous. It is difficult to see how an aggregation of young men and young women could, within a few months, become so strongly attached to a school as our students were to the University. Strong associations among the young ministers of the school were formed, and these associations were extremely helpful in building up a deep spiritual life. The work done by these young men in and around Shawnee gave our school wide recognition as a force for good throughout the community.

The graduating honors were conferred upon nine of our students. One in the Fine Arts Department; two, B. S., and six, A. B. But few schools, if any, have ever had the privilege of closing the first term of school life with as much credit.

Soon after the closing up of the work for the year, our President, Dr. Carroll, tendered his resignation, which was accepted with regrets. And upon the advice and recommendation of Dr. Carroll the Board deemed it wise to temporarily close the school until such time as we could occupy our own building and address our efforts to liquidating our indebtedness, building and equipping our dormitories, and when in our own building open our school and go forward with that zeal and pride characteristic of our great denomination.

Respectfully submitted,

W. P. BLAKE, President.

31. On motion voted that the report of the Committee on Nominations be made the special order of this hour.

32. The Report was read by B. P. Weeks, and after consideration, and amendment, was adopted, the time of the meeting of the Convention referred to the Board of Directors. For report see the different Boards, etc.

33. It was moved and so voted, that, after next year the Convention will go upon the pay plan.

34. In the absence of a report on Sunday Schools, the Subject was taken up for consideration. A motion prevailed to extend the time for this subject twenty minutes, and each speaker, Dr. J. M. Frost, and Howard Wayne Smith, allotted twenty minutes.

Dr. Frost requested W. S. Wiley in a five minute address to tell of his visit to Nashville, and took the balance of time allotted him. Dr. Smith also spoke as per program.

35. The committee on Order of Business reported, and followed their report with the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed by this convention to prepare and publish a Provisional Order of Business for next session of this body, and have same ready for distribution at the opening session.

36. Report on Indian Missions was read by Secretary Blake and on motion to adopt was supported by A. J. Washburn, and adopted.

REPORT ON INDIAN MISSIONS.

To the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma.

Dear Brethren:—

Your committee are pleased to report our Indian work in good condition, having made the greatest advancement during the past year that has been made in the history of the department since this convention has had charge of this work. Becoming more permanently settled under the new state of things, they are constantly showing more interest in church affairs and improvement along all lines of work. There has been employed this year in the department on Superintendent of Missions, two general workers and ten Associational Missionaries whose reports show very efficient work. The work among the Cherokees suffered somewhat by the loss of their leader, Rev. Daniel Bird; but his place has been supplied by the selection of Rev. Richard Glory, who has done very excellent work, and it is hoped is the right man in the right place. We have this year suffered quite a loss in the death of our brother, Rev. A. W. Fulson, one of the Choctaw missionaries, and one of our oldest Choctaw preachers. No man ever maintained a purer character than Brother Fulson. We note particularly that each of our Indian Associations closed their year's work out of debt with a balance in the treasury with which to begin next year's work. The Creek Indians are to be commended especially upon the development of mission spirit among them. It will be remembered that Rev. John McIntosh, a full blood Creek, preached the first gospel sermon to the blanket Indians in Oklahoma. And grateful to their benefactors the Wichitas have since insisted on being a part of the Creek Association; hence, the name Muskogee and Wichita Associations. During the past year the Creek Association has raised the money with which to erect a meeting house for the Wichitas and a number of them went over and built the house and turned it over to the Wichitas out of debt. They have also carried the gospel to the Creek Indians located in the Cherokee nation, and are now considering the sending of a missionary to the Seminole Indians in Florida. From reports there have been administered during the year 300 baptisms, the greatest number, 183, having been reported by the Cherokees. Three new churches have been organized, two new houses built, and much improvement on old houses has been made. We notice that in a very few instances have the Indians asked for assistance from the Board in the building of new meeting houses.

We recommend that this work be continued as heretofore projected and the greatest possible encouragement given it.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMITTEE.

37 Report on Temperance, Prohibition and Law Enforcement was read by W. J. Caudill, and adopted.

Report on Prohibition.

To the Baptist General Convention, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Dear Brethren:—

We beg to submit the following report on temperance enforcement and law enforcement:

Since our last report West Virginia has voted state-wide prohibition. The Supreme Court of the United States, on the 10th day of June, 1912, handed down a decision that the twenty-one years' prohibition clause in the Oklahoma Constitution, prohibiting the sale of liquor on the East Side, must stand. We thank our Heavenly Father for the accomplishment. We have found by experience that the prohibition law can be enforced as well as any other law. Whenever the county and state officers are honest and try to enforce the law, it is done to the satisfaction of the people of the state. At this time ninety per cent of the counties of the state have the prohibition law enforced as well as any other law in the state. The great trouble that we have is that in many counties the county officers refuse to enforce the law. The fact is, they are in league with the boot-legger and criminal of the state and stand for a protection for them as against the people.

We further find that our present laws are not sufficient to bring about the results that are necessary to stop the violation of the liquor traffic.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we urge the next Legislature to adopt more stringent laws so as to make it a penitentiary offense to sell liquor in the state.

And be it further RESOLVED, That we believe that the best and only remedy is for the Legislature to pass a law giving the Governor power to remove dishonest and corrupt state officers who fail and refuse to enforce the prohibition, gambling and criminal laws of the state. We have learned by experience that the boot-legger, gambler and house of prostitution are kindred evils and operate together, and support each other.

Therefore be it further RESOLVED, That we urge the Governor and the Legislature to pass a law to make it a felony for any person or persons to run a gambling or liquor joint or a house of prostitution, as they are always alert, and busy both night and day.

Therefore, We urge our pastors and all friends of good government to organize counties and precincts, and instruct the people as to the prohibitory law, and the duty of the officers in enforcing it, and help and stand by the officers in enforcing the law.

We believe that there are no more convincing facts in favor of prohibition kept before the public than the statistics of the prohibition territory such as the following, taken from the Kansas State Board of Control, given out July 9, 1909: Out of 105 counties in the state, 21 have no prisoners in the penitentiary, 36 no prisoners in the reformatory, 52 have no prisoners in jail, 28 have no people in the poor house, 87 no insane people, 54 no feeble minded people. They have more dollars per capita than any other state in the Union. No other spot of equal area on this earth can boast of such a record.

We urge that our members of Congress from Oklahoma support the Sheppard-Kenyon Bill now pending in Congress, which takes away from the boot-legger and joint-keeper all protection of the Interstate Commerce laws of the United States. We also demand that our Congressmen support a measure denying the use of the mails to the brewers, distillers, wholesale liquor men, or any one else for sending advertising matter, price lists, or any other matter pertaining to the liquor traffic, into the prohibition territory. We also demand that our Congressman support a measure prohibiting the issuing of Liquor Dealers' Tax Receipts to any one in a prohibition territory.

We urge that our next Legislature repeal what is known as the "For the Amendment" law, so that hereafter no one shall be counted as voting upon the Constitutional Amendment unless he HAS voted thereon, and pass a law so that hereafter all proposed Constitutional amendments must be voted by voting either "Yes" or "No."

We desire to commend Governor Cruce and W. J. Caudill, (State Enforcement Officer), for their faithful and untiring prosecution of illicit liquor offenders.

We urge our people everywhere to give them their prayers and support in this unpleasant battle for civic righteousness.

We recommend that W. J. Caudill and Dr. H. H. Hulton be elected as members of the Board of Trustees of the Anti-Saloon League, to represent the denomination in Oklahoma.

Adopted by the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma in session assembled in the city of Shawnee, Oklahoma, the 9th day of November, 1912, and ordered given to the press of the state, and a copy to the Governor.

On motion and vote the Convention instructed the Secretary to have this report published in the papers, and to furnish the Governor of the State and our Congressman a copy.

Adjourned with prayer by D. N. Crane.

Second Day—Saturday Night.

39. The report on Woman's Work was read by Miss Sue O. Howell, and on motion to adopt was spoken to by Miss Howell, and Miss Cooper, and adopted.

REPORT ON WOMAN'S WORK.

To the Baptist General Convention:

We, your committee, bring our report of the year's work with songs of praise, and hearts filled with gratitude for the fulfillment of the promise, "Lo, I am with you always."

As year succeeds year we are increasingly thankful for the special work which is ours, and for which we believe the Master of the vineyard holds us responsible, but with this distinctive work upon our hearts, we never lose sight of the significance of our motto adopted six years ago in this place, "Fellow Helpers to the truth." This is our highest ambition as an organization, that we may so labor that our Women's Society in the various churches may be a strong missionary influence permeating every department of the church and training our membership to have a part in every phase of the work for which our denomination stands, for the upbuilding of the Kingdom.

During the past six years our work has made steady progress. There have been problems and difficulties, there will be in the future, but we know that God's grace is sufficient for these things, and we press forward.

We now have 400 Woman's Societies. Young women and 50 juniors. One hundred and eighty societies have studied missions during the past year. Much literature and special programs for Week of Prayer, the study of State Missions, and Enlistment Day have been sent out.

Our annual meeting just closed was in many ways the best we have ever had. A deeper interest in mission study is very manifest.

This has always been a foundation stone in our work and one upon which we can build with great certainty.

Our aim in gifts was not reached, which we regret, but believe it is due largely to financial conditions and the pressure of local church work. We have had 35 Association Presidents working in harmonious co-operation with the field workers and corresponding secretary, organizing and developing, statistics of which may be found in the various reports. Of our plans for the coming year our aim in GIFTS will be $4,500. Our mission study will be China's New Day, Mormonism and Mountain School Work, with special program additional.

A more aggressive, determined effort will be made to interest, enlist and organize, and we earnestly ask the help of our pastors in all this work, believing that in this way your hands will be strengthened and upheld in the whole work of the church.

To this end we have selected for the coming year this watchword, "Enlarge the place of thy tent."

Through this report we also wish to voice the action taken in our annual meeting, expressing to the convention board our appreciation of their support of our work, in co-operation and financial aid.

COMMITTEE.

The report on Home Missions was read by G. M. Harrell, and on motion to adopt, Dr. J. F. Love addressed the convention, and the report was adopted.

HOME MISSIONS in any community means much, as to scope, and the purpose is to recruit and strengthen the home forces, that they may become more effective in the regions beyond.

When we pray, God be merciful to us, and bless us, and cause His face to shine upon us, it is, that His way may be known in all the earth and His saving health among all nations.

Home Missions in the United States means more than in any other nation in the world. It is the only nation on earth having complete and unfettered religious liberty. In the atmosphere of universal and complete democracy of spirit of home evangelism expects and shares tary, organizing and developing, statistics of which may be found in

This "land of the free and home of the brave" has become the mecca and the asylum of the oppressed of every nation on earth, so that it easily becomes the breeding ground of world-wide missions. From these United States may go out as the fruits of home missions native missionaries to every nation of the earth.

Our two great agencies, the Home Mission Society of New York and the Home Board of Atlanta, Georgia, in their endeavors to grapple with their great and growing task, have accomplished much, and we here record our gratification and our profound gratitude to God for the success attending their efforts, for the rapid enlargement of the work under their supervision, and for the fraternal spirit that overcomes and removes any avoidable friction that may arise in connection with their operations. But the very prosperity of their work multiplies open doors, and brings to light an ever widening harvest.

More than one million dollars were expended last year in their many sided work. The problem of the large cities, the storm centers of wickedness and vice affecting seriously the social life of the nation, the frontiers, so rapidly filling up that the frontier of today becomes "the Middle West" of tomorrow, with its teeming population; the mountain regions with their "acres of diamonds;" the native Indians; the foreign population; the Negroes; the church building problem; the large number of unenlisted churches, are calling for enlarged operations, which means larger giving.

Added to the above is the prospective opening of the Panama canal which will turn the tide of immigration largely to Southern and Western ports of the United States.

The work of the Home Mission Society last year is as follows:

Number of workers	1,516
Baptisms	11,952
Additions by letter, etc.	9,885
Total additions		21,837
Amount expended		$599,874.96
Work of Home Board last year:—
Number of workers	1,309
Baptisms	26,899
Additions by letter, etc.	224
Total additions		47,728
Amount expended		$475,116.67

We recommend to the churches a wider circulation of literature and more liberal giving to this cause.

On motion voted that Dr. Love give his address for publication.

41. The report on Foreign Missions was read by F. M. Masters, and on motion to adopt, Dr. I. N. Clark addressed the convention, following which the report was adopted.

REPORT OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

To the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma, 1912, convened at Shawnee, November 8:

We, your committee on Foreign Missions, report as follows:

There is a great need for a revival of the Foreign Mission spirit among the Baptists of Oklahoma. Many of our stronger churches, with a multitude of smaller ones, gave nothing last year to Foreign Missions. The command of our Lord to preach the gospel to the uttermost parts of the world needs a present day meaning to our people. To reach the man at our door we must have that spirit, which would lead us to seek to save a man on the other side of the world.

Oklahoma Baptists co-operating with the two great Mission bodies of this country are afforded the largest field in which to labor, are blessed with the interest in the largest number of workers, are permitted to rejoice over the largest results, and have the privilege of entering the largest plans of any body of Baptists in the world.

Let us consider the field, the workers, the results and the plans of Foreign Mission work as carried out by the two great conventions with which the Baptists of this state co-operate.

First—The Field. The field occupied by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention embraces seven countries—three Pagan and four Catholic. The Pagan fields are China, Africa and Japan. The Catholic fields are Italy, Brazil, Mexico and Argentine.

The American Foreign Mission Society of Northern Baptists prosecutes mission work in Burma, Assam, South India, China, Japan, Africa and the Philippines, and also gives aid to the work in France, Germany, Sweden, Spain, Russia, Norway, Denmark and Finland. These are the fields into which Oklahoma Baptists are called to labor with their money and prayers. Every dollar given by the Baptists of this state is to preach the gospel throughout the fields occupied by these two great bodies with which this convention co-operates.

Second—The Workers. To be sure we are interested in the forces to the front. The Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention report two hundred and seventy Foreign Missionaries and five hundred and eighty-seven native workers, three hundred and forty-two churches and eight hundred and twenty-six stations with twenty-four hundred and twenty-two Sunday schools with fourteen thousand five hundred and sixty-two scholars; two hundred and twenty-seven schools with six thousand one hundred and seventy-six students; nineteen hospitals with fifty-one thousand seven hundred and sixty-six patients treated. This represents the working force of Southern Baptists among the heathen.

The American Baptist Foreign Mission Society has a total Foreign Mission force of seven hundred and twenty-two, and five thousand four hundred and eighty-six native workers in Asia and Africa; also two thousand four hundred and twenty-six workers are reported in Europe. The present membership in Asia and Africa is one hundred and fifty-six thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, and in Europe one hundred and thirty-three thousand four hundred and fifty-one. In the Asiatic and African field there are fourteen hundred and seventy-two students in the Theological and Biblical training schools. Other schools number two thousand one hundred and twenty-seven, with sixty-three thousand three hundred and eighty-six pupils enrolled. The medical work includes nineteen hospitals and thirty-three dispensaries with thirty-seven thousand six hundred and seventy patients, and fees collected amounting to fourteen thousand six hundred and forty-eight dollars. The native churches contributed last year one hundred and twenty-two thousand three hundred and twelve dollars for church expenses, education and missions. This represents the working force on the fields of this great society which calls for our support in every way possible.

Third—The Result. The result of the work done by these two greatbodies as reported at the two respective conventions last spring, should thrill all our hearts and inspire us to do more for European missions. The Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention brought by far the most fruitful report in its history. Notwithstanding wars, pestilence, famine, and the loss of a number of our best missionaries by death, the year's work has been glorious in results. The year was the best in contributions. The churches gave into the treasury of the board $580,408.17. There were in all the fields 4,300 baptisms. The working force on the field was increased with new missionaries from home and with native helpers raised up on the field.

Northern Baptists also have great occasion for rejoicing over the blessed results given them during the past year. The total receipts were $1,129,529.01. The total number of baptisms for the field in Asia and Africa was 9,371, and for the European countries 16,924. Every field reported marked progress. There was sent out 50 new missionaries during last year. Surely God is blessing us beyond our efforts.

Fourth—The Plans. The plans for the year are enlargement both North and South, "Lengthen thy cords and strengthen thy stakes," was the watchword at the two conventions.

At the Southern Baptist Convention at Oklahoma City the tide of enthusiasm ran high for an enlarged work in every field. The apportioned figures for Foreign Missions were set at $618,000 by the convention, of which amount Oklahoma was asked to raise $3,000.

The climax of the Fireign Mission spirit of the convention was reached when the report inaugurating the campaign for the Judson Memorial fund was adopted, "The dawn of American Baptist Missions was the baptism of Adoniram Judson in 1812." The report calls for the raising of a million and a quarter dollars by Southern Baptists as a centennial memorial fund to the honor of this hero of the cross in Burma. Eight hundred thousand dollars of this amount is to be used in the equipment and enlargement of our educational work in all our mission fields, two hundred thousand of it shall be devoted to our foreign publication interests, while the remaining two hundred and fifty thousand dollars shall be known as the general equipment fund. These funds are to be kept entirely separate from the other funds of the Board and to be used only for the purpose designated. Dr. T. B. Ray, the educational secretary, was appointed to take the leadership in raising this fund, and the plan is to have it completed by the meeting of the convention in 1915.

The keynote of the Northern Convention at Des Moines, was also enlargement. The campaign call for 1912-13 is "Three billion dollars for missions, two million from the Baptist churches from the North and one million from individual Baptists blessed with prosperity."

Let this convention, co-operating with these two great bodies, keep step with their ever forward movements. The ideal to be set by the pastors and mission committees should be to reach every church in the state, and every member in every church for Foreign Missions this year.

We recommend the wide distribution of the mission literature and the organizing of mission study classes in every church possible. Our Baptist faith should receive a new setting in the study of the life of Judson and how he became a Baptist.

Respectfully submitted,

F. M. MASTERS,
F. B. HARREL,
Committee.

42. On motion voted to take up and consider amendments to the Constitution. Motion prevailed that the Constitution be amended by striking from the sixth line of Article II, the word (Five), and by inserting the word (Ten), thereby allowing ten messengers from each church.

43. The President announced the Committee on Provisional Order of Business for next year, J. B. Rounds, J. C. Stalcup, W. A. Hamlett.

Adjourned. Prayer by T. F. Coe.

Third Day—Sunday.

44. Most of the city pulpits were filled by Baptist preachers. At the Baptist church, following the regular Sunday School service, W. S. Wiley, one of the Field Secretaries of the S. S. Board, delivered an address.

At 11 o'clock Dr. Coleman, newly appointed Foreign Mission Secretary west of the Mississippi, preached on Foreign Missions, a great sermon. One conversion, and many offered themselves for service anywhere.

45. At 2:30 p. m., a mass meeting of B. Y. P. U. was held at which time a state organization was effected, and a call for a State convention to meet at Stillwater in April, 1913.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AND B. Y. P. U. REPORT.

Department of Teaching and Training.

The task on which Jesus came into the world, that for which he died, is that of finding His father's lost ones and bringing them into fellowship with God by their everlasting salvation from sin. To make this great fact known to the world, that all men shall be led to accept Jesus as savior and serve him as lord, comprises the entire field of Christian endeavor. All other tasks are purely incidental or subsidiary to this. To this end Jesus, in closing His earthly ministry, left with His disciples a commission which we call "The Great Commission," variously stated in the last verses of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and the last chapters of John. From these statements of the commission we gather these lines of activity:

1. We must go into all the world.
2. Preach the gospel to every creature.
3. Make disciples of all nations, or, teach all nations.
4. Baptize these disciples, and,
5. Teach them to do, or, train them in the doing of all those things which Jesus has commanded.

The Baptists of Oklahoma are working along all these lines in their effort to win Oklahoma for Jesus Christ. This task we call State Missions.

From the words of the commission we see that to the churches has been committed a teaching and training work as necessary lines of work in making disciples, building them into the likeness of Christ and fitting them for efficient service in the kingdom. Our State Mission Board, realizing the great need of this phase of work and the obligation upon our churches growing out of the need and the command of Jesus have created a department of Teaching and Training as a phase of state mission work. Under this head we include Sunday School work, B. Y. P. U. work and the men's movement.

Our Sunday Schools are the principal teaching services of our churches. It is greatly to be regretted that very many of our churches failed to report their Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. work to the associations and many associations do not publish it when reported. There are about 950 Sunday Schools in the state with an average attendance of about 28,500. Teacher training, mission teaching, advanced Bible study, better organization, improved methods, grading and graded lessons, and enlistment rallies have been stressed this year with special emphasis on teacher training and mission teaching in the schools. The results have been very gratifying. We note several things with interest.

1. The demand for institutes and teacher training is far beyond our ability to meet.
2. There is an increased demand for mission training on the part of our teachers.
3. Out of a total enrollment in the various training classes of 329 there were 285 who complete the work and in addition to this 114 completed one or more of the advanced courses.
4. Special effort for several years has been directed to securing a number of our own people who would qualify as teachers on one or more of the training courses to report for service.

The following is the result to date:

- (1). Pastors, 12. (2). Pastor's wives, 3. (3). Public school teachers, 6. (4). County superintendent, 1. (5). Associational missionaries, 4. These all have qualified to teach and are either teaching training classes or have reported for service.

The B. Y. P. U. is the principal training service of the churches in which the effort is to enlist, organize and train our young people for more efficient service in every phase of Christian activity through the regular work of their churches. We believe in a departmental B. Y. P. U. which shall seek to develop our young people along social, devotional and educational lines will best solve the young people's problem.

Op to three months ago when Brother Rounds was secured for this phase of the work most of this time had been given to the associations and the state mission campaign. Little has been done specifically for the young people during the past year. We have come to see the need of providing for some definite training of the young people in all of our churches, also for some specific training for the development of officers and departmental leaders. If Sunday School teachers need a "King's Teacher" training course our young people need a "King's Business" training course which shall help them to become "approved workmen," 2 Tim. 2:15. Such a course we hope to provide.

The Men's Movement in Oklahoma lacks two essential elements of success, it has no men and it hasn't moved.

There are many men who are rendering splendid service, there are a number of splendid men's classes in the Sunday Schools, some of whom are doing special mission study for a part of the year, and there is a nucleus of a men's movement in the association missionary committees. When all of these catch the vision of the one great task for the Master and begin to put themselves into it we may have a men's movement in Oklahoma. For the present we are placing emphasis on the men's classes in the Sunday Schools and propose to push "The Primacy of State Missions" as a special text book for men.

We commend the departmental Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. to the consideration of all who are interested in more effective teaching and training, and the Laymen's Missionary Library, and especially The Primacy of State Missions to all of our men.

We wish here to express our appreciation of the hearty co-operation of the pastors and other workers of the state, also for the continued co-operation and valuable help of the two great Sunday School agencies, the American Baptist Publication Society of the Northern Baptist Convention and the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Respectfully submitted,

J. B. ROUNDS,

46. At 7:30 p. m., G. W. McCall spoke of the life and work of Dr. Judson in connection with the Judson Memorial Fund.

At 8 o'clock Dr. Bruce Kinney in a great address made a powerful appeal for Home Missions.

Fourth Day—Monday.

47. Devotional service led by Bro. Killian, of the Chapel Car, Phil. 3:13.

Called to order by the President.

48. The following resolution was introduced by Bro. Washburn, and on motion to adopt, was supported by Washburn, Phelps, Wolfe and Rinehart and adopted.

Resolved, That the Board of Directors be, and is hereby requested to give special attention to the work in the country districts, both in the matter of missions and colportage work.

49. On motion the following resolution offered by Bro. Baten was adopted:

Resolved, That the Trustees of Oklahoma Baptist College be authorized to have their charter so changed as to provide for 18 trustees, and that the present incumbent trustees be authorized to fill vacancies.

50. The report on Systematic Beneficence was read by Bro. Chancellor and on motion and vote adopted.

Schedule for 1912-1913.

November and December	Orphans' Home.
January and February	Christian Education.
March and April	Home and Foreign Missions.
May	Sanitarium.
June and July	Associated Missions.
August, September, October.....	State Missions.

51. The report on Obituaries was read by Bro. J. I. Keller and on vote adopted.

REPORT ON OBITUARIES.

Dear Brethren of the Convention:

We feel that our district associations have given reports on obituaries much more accurately than it is possible for us in this convention, as the reports of our churches are not sent to us.

From the best information we can get the Lord has been gracious to us the past year. Only a few have been called from earth to heaven.

Rev. W. T. Cantrell of Milburn has entered into rest. He began preaching some fifteen years ago, eight miles east of Roff, Oklahoma. He entered fully into the Master's service, and continued loyal and faithful until his death. He was pastor at Wapanucka and Milburn at the time the Lord called him home, February, 1912.

The name of W. L. Anderson of Ninnekah was handed the committee, but no particulars accompanied it.

Our sympathies go out to all throughout the state to whom affliction has come, and we commit them to our Heavenly Father who doeth all things well, knowing that in His sight the death of His saints is precious.

While in convention assembled word has come that the brother of our beloved Brother W. A. McKinney has just passed over the river. To our brother we extend the fellowship of suffering with him. The God of all grace be very precious to him and all who suffer the loss of the loved ones. It is sorrow here, but over there Everlasting Spring abides with never withering flowers; the loved ones are home at last.

52. Report on Old Minister's Relief Fund was read by Bro. Solomon and adopted.

Dear Brethren of the Convention:

Your committee, looking back at the reports of the past, and realizing nothing has been done, therefore have nothing to report. No steps have been taken to relieve whatever condition may exist. Therefore your committee would recommend:

First—That the Board of Directors take up this work and see that this work comes in with the regular list of offerings.

Second—That they apply these offerings to the relief of such worthy cases as may come to their knowledge.

COMMITTEE.

53. The following resolutions were offered by W. S. Wiley, and on motion, were adopted:

Resolved that this convention tender its most hearty and sincere thanks to the First Baptist church and the citizens of Shawnee for their hospitable entertainment of this session of the convention, and to the railroads for favors shown the messengers.

We further express our appreciation of the services of the Baptist Messenger in furnishing us a daily report of the convention through the city daily, which marks a new departure in Baptist journalism.

54. The report on Baptist Sanitarium was adopted:

OKLAHOMA BAPTIST HOSPITAL.

This is the first formal report the hospital has been privileged to furnish to the convention. Heretofore it has been reporting through the courtesy of the convention, but it now belongs to the family, and can exercise the right of a child.

In 1909, August 8th, the Oklahoma Baptist Hospital opened with two patients. More than 1,000 have since entered its portals to receive relief. The building has a capacity of about 20 patients, but averages 28 per month. The greatest need is room. During the past twelve months the hospital has cared for 328 patients. There were 18 births in the institution. Surgical operations performed, 191.

Free services rendered	$ 203.55
Received from patients	9,166.61
Expenses		$8,391.96

While the hospital is self-supporting careful attention is called to the fact that there is a debt on it, contracted from the beginning, and which cannot be easily liquidated in the present limited capacity. If we had more room the earnings would be doubled while the running expenses would remain practically the same. Oklahoma Baptists lose money every day from this cramped condition of their hospital.

Another source of expense would be turned into a revenue if we had more ample buildings, is the necessity of going outside for nurses, because there is not room to accommodate nurses of our own. Nurses on special duty draw good pay and this amount, going into the hundreds annually, has to be paid to outside nurses, whereas the hospital could receive it if it had the nurses of its own. This could be remedied if we had a larger building.

A Plea.

Brethren of Oklahoma, remember your hospital. Put it on your association program; preach on it; pray for it. Tell the people we Baptists have a hospital at Musnogie, manned by Baptists and surrounded by Christian influence.

Announcement.

We thank the brotherhood for helping us. Always do we need linen, sheets, towels, pillow-slips, fruits, jellies, preserves, etc., and we heartily recommend to the churches and the ladies' societies that they remember our needs.

W. A. HAMLETT.

55. The following resolution presented by L. C. Wolfe was adopted:

Be it resolved, That whereas, on account of the closing of the Baptist State University, Dr. J. M. Carroll, its President, has gone from the state, severing his connection with our educational work, and recognizing his great ability, and his usefulness to every department of our work; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That we do now heartily express our deep regret at his going and our high appreciation of his noble and self-sacrificing services while with us.

We further express our belief that his work has been a blessing to us all, and will be an inspiration to us in the future years of our work.

We further heartily commend him to our brethren at large.

56. The report on Religious Literature was read and adopted:

REPORT ON RELIGIOUS LITERATURE.

There is so much so-called religious literature in the world today, it would require a lifetime to read it all, and still longer to forget it.

Our conception of religious literature is a literature built upon the morals and truths of revealed religion.

The printed page does more to mould the sentiment of the religious world than everything else together.

Each one of God's children is directly or indirectly indebted to the printed page for what he is as a Christian.

One of the greatest problems of Oklahoma Baptists today is to get before the people good, sound, evangelistic literature.

Your committee would recommend, first, the daily reading and careful study of the blessed old Book, the Bible.

While we are going at a ruinous rate, and running over each other to the newsstand to get something to read, we are leaving behind the book that contains the sweetest and gladdest news known to man, and the reading of which is our first and last duty to God.

The literature and periodicals published and sent out to both our Northern and Southern Boards and Societies are very helpful.

We recognize the helpfulness of the Baptist papers of other states that have a circulation in Oklahoma, The Baptist Standard, Word and Way, and others, but we firmly believe they cannot supply our need in this state, and in so far as they furnish excuses to our people for not supporting their own papers, they unintentionally become a hindrance and therefore we would Urge the people to give more earnest support and help in building up that which means much to our every interest.

We appreciate the splendid services rendered by the Baptist Messenger, published at Oklahoma City, and the Baptist Worker, published at Granite, Okla., and recommend that they be subscribed for and read by the Brotherhood.

T. A. SHERIFF, Chairman.

57. The report on Ministerial Education was presented and adopted, the Secretary speaking briefly in support of contributions to the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Student's Aid Fund.

REPORT ON MINISTERIAL EDUCATION.

Ministerial education is a special phase of Christian education. Christian education has developed from ministerial education. By this is meant that ministerial education is the phase of Christian education that first appealed to our Baptist people. In founding Christian schools in our early history the dominant purpose was to educate the ministry. As this was accomplished in some measure, the broader conception became prominent, viz., that all the people shall have Christian education. The latter development, therefore, was the Christian college, wherein the boys and girls were to be given Christian training. Under this condition Bible departments were created for the purpose of giving more special emphasis to the training of ministerial students. As the standard of ministerial training rose and the demand enlarged the seminary proper has arisen to meet and foster the highest ideals for ministerial training. At this writing most all of our Baptist colleges have Bible departments. We also have some of the best seminaries in the world for giving special ministerial training, namely, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.; The Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Ft. Worth, Texas, and the Kansas City Baptist Seminary at Kansas City, Mo.

Since the seminaries exist as institutions of pure beneficence, there being no tuition, it is necessary for their support to be provided otherwise. Aside from the support of the institution there must be provided a fund to be used in the partial support of ministerial students. This becomes a grave proposition when we consider the financial inability of ministerial students, and also that our churches are more and more demanding a higher order of training for their pastors.

It is not so much a question today as to whether we should have trained preachers, because the churches themselves are making this demand, and they are making it so clearly that no one needs to misunderstand their meaning.

This demand is one of the causes for frequent pastoral changes.

We therefore urge: First, that pastors urge the churches to help meet their own demand by contributing to the Ministerial Aid fund.

Second: Since our institutions are so closely related to Baptist conventions, thereby making possible their control and increasing, therefore, denominational responsibility, we urge that our pastors inform the churches about these seminaries.

It is very encouraging that most all of our great ministers, who were deprived of early training, are among the most zealous advocates of thorough training for the younger ministers.

58. The following resolution was read by Bro. Baten and adopted:

Whereas the convention has set apart the months of January and February, 1913, for a vigorous campaign in the intersets of our educational work, requesting that every church take a cash offering during these months for said work, and

Whereas, an unprecedented emergency demands that every available agency be brought into requisition to make this action of the convention effective, therefore,

Resolved, That every pastor be requested to present this matter to his own church and to nearby pastorless churches, taking collections in all these churches; that our Board of Directors be requested to enter into hearty co-operation with the Educational Commission, and that every employee of the Board be directed to take collections on the field for the educational work during the above designated period.

59. At eleven a. m., Dr. Henderson, Secretary of the Men's Missionary Movement delivered a great and helpful address on this great work. He gave much information of the great gathering now being arranged for, of men, to be held at Chattanooga, Tennessee, Feb. 4, 5, and 6, at which they are expecting upwards of 3,000 Christian men.

60. On motion voted that all unfinished business be referred to the Board of Directors.

61. A motion to adjourn prevailed, and those who remained to the end united their voices in singing, Blest Be the Tie that Binds Our Hearts in Christian Love, while the hand of parting fellowship was given, God's blessing being upon us.

Prayer by T. G. Cunningham.

62. The next meeting of the convention is appointed to be held with the Baptist church of Mangum, on the 5th day of November, 1913.

C. STUBBLEFIELD, President.

W. P. BLAKE, Recording Secretary.

T. B. HARRELL, Assistant.

THE BAPTIST MINISTERS' CONFERENCE.

The Baptist Ministers' Conference of Oklahoma met this day in the meeting house of the First Baptist Church, Shawnee, Okla., November 7, 1912.

Called to order by the Moderator, J. A. Sutton.

J. L. H. Hawkins led the devotional service, reading and commenting upon the Third Psalm, W. G. Lewis leading the singing.

Following the devotional service the conference proceeded to organization, which was effected by re-electing J. A. Sutton Moderator, and T. B. Harrell Secretary.

In the absence of the appointee, the Problem of the Pastor was discussed by G. M. Harrell.

The next appointee also being absent, Editor C. P. Stealey was requested to discuss the paper question, and to speak of the interests of the Baptist Messenger.

When expressions from the brethren were called for, many expressed appreciation for and faith in the paper. Mention was also made of the Baptist Worker, published at Granite.

The closing subject for the forenoon, The Problems of the Sunday School, was discussed by W. D. Moorer.

The Moderator announced the following names as a committee on program for the next annual meeting: G. W. Sherman, J. B. Rounds, E. Ridgeway.

After the announcements the conference adjourned till 2 o'clock p. m., with benediction by G. W. Sherman.

Afternoon Session.

The conference was called to order at 2 o'clock p. m., by the Moderator. Devotional service by F. M. Masters.

H. T. Laughbaum, superintendent and attorney of the Oklahoma Anti-Saloon League, addressed the conference on prohibition, and the great need of vigilance in keeping the legalized sale of liquor out of the state.

Dr. Wells, of the Kansas City Theological Seminary, being introduced, addressed the conference in the interests of that institution.

Our Educational Problem was discussed by President A. E. Baten of the O. B. College, Blackwell.

J. C. Stalcup announced that a business man of Oklahoma City had suggested that our convention adopt resolutions requesting the daily papers of our state to publish continually at their heads, passages of scripture, as many papers do.

The financial problem was discussed by G. W. Sherman.

By motion it was resolved that after this year any change that shall be made in the adopted program shall be by order of the conference.

After announcements the conference adjourned till 7:30 p. m., with benediction by H. P. Crego.

Night Session.

The conference met at 7:30 p. m., W. G. Lewis conducting the devotional service.

M. H. Snodgrass, after scripture reading by E. D. Cameron, addressed the conference on the genealogy of Jesus.

The conference next listened to an address on Individual Service, the Idea in Soul Winning, by Dr. H. H. Hulton.

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I.

Name.

This Society shall be called the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of Oklahoma, co-operating with the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma.

ARTICLE II.

Object.

The object of this Society shall be to cultivate a missionary spirit especially among the women, young women and children throughout the state, and to aid in the world-wide spread of the Gospel. In this work it shall co-operate with the Home and Foreign Departments of the Woman's Missionary Union Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention; with the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society; with the Woman's Baptist Foreign Mission Society of the West and with the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma, in the work presented by their respective constitutions.

ARTICLE III.

Officers.

Section 1. The officers of this Society shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Recording Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary and a Treasurer, and an Auditor, who shall be elected annually by ballot.

Sec. 2. These officers, with the exception of the Auditor, together with the Presidents of Associations, the Secretaries of Departments and an Advisory Committee (provided for in Article 1, Section 6 of the By-Laws), shall constitute the Executive Board, five of whom, including two officers, shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

ARTICLE IV.

Membership.

The membership of this Society shall be composed of the Executive Board, and one messenger from each Baptist Woman's Society or Baptist Church, and one additional messenger for every ten dollars contributed through the Treasurer of this Society; provided, no society shall have more than ten messengers; also messengers from Young Woman's Societies on the same basis of representation as the women.

ARTICLE V.

Distribution of Funds.

All money raised by local societies for missions shall be sent to the Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer of this Society. All money for Home Missions not otherwise designated, shall be equally divided between the home department of the Woman's Missionary Union and for the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society. All money for foreign missions not otherwise designated shall be equally divided between the foreign department of the Woman's Missionary Union and the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the West.

ARTICLE VI.

Time of Meeting.

The annual meeting of this Society shall be held in two or more consecutive sessions, at the same place, and on the day previous to the opening of the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma.

ARTICLE VII.

Amendments.

The constitution may be changed or amended, by a two-thirds vote of the messengers present at any annual meeting; provided, notice of the proposed change has been given to each local society one month previous to the annual meeting.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I.

Duties of Officers.

Section 1. President. The President shall preside at the annual meeting of the Society, and at the meetings of the Executive Board, appoint all committees not otherwise provided for, and shall be an ex-officio member of all standing committees. With the concurrence of the Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer and at least one member of the Advisory Committee she may call special meetings of the Executive Board, when in her judgment it may seem needful.

Sec. 2. Vice-Presidents. The Vice-Presidents shall be qualified to act in place of the President and to aid her in all practical ways.

Sec. 3. Recording Secretary. It shall be the duty of the Recording Secretary to keep a record of all business transactions and all items of special interest and importance at the annual meeting of the Society, to prepare the minutes for publication, and also act as Secretary of the Executive Board, a condensed report of which shall be given to the annual meeting.

Sec. 4. Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer. As Corresponding Secretary it shall be her duty to conduct all official correspondence of the Society and transact all necessary business connected therewith; to be the means of communication between the co-operating boards and societies (named in Article II of the Constitution) and the local societies of the state.

She shall have general supervision of the State Program and the Traveling Libraries, shall have charge of the correspondence to Baptist papers unless other provisions shall be made for it, and shall give general direction to the field work, doing such field work herself as time and opportunity may permit.

As Treasurer it shall be her duty to receive, acknowledge and pay out the various funds of the Society according to the directions of the Executive Board, keeping always an exact account of the receipts and disbursements.

She shall make an annual report to this Society and quarterly and annual reports to the co-operative Boards and Societies, and shall forward monthly to the Treasurer of said Boards and Societies all money for Home and Foreign Missions.

Sec. 5. Executive Board. This Board shall have entire management of all matters entrusted to its care and shall have power to make such by-laws and carry out such plans as may seem judicious, provided they are in accordance with the Constitution of this Society.

It shall hold regular quarterly meetings following the close of each quarter, notice of which shall be given by the Corresponding Secretary. Also following the annual meeting the new Executive Board shall meet to plan for carrying out the work of the year. It shall elect the Secretaries of departments, viz.: A Secretary of Young Women's Work, a Secretary of Junior Work, and a Secretary of Baby Band Work. Also an Advisory Committee which shall be composed of five members who are familiar with and interested in Woman's Mission Work.

It shall have power to fill vacancies in its own number. It shall bring to the annual meeting recommendations concerning the development of the field and any other matters pertaining to the interest and promotion of the work which may seem expedient and judicious.

Sec. 7. Secretaries of Departments. It shall be the duty of these Secretaries to assist the Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer in the development of the department represented by each. They may may organize and present plans to the Executive Board for the furtherance of their respective work, recommend their adoption and assist in carrying them out. They shall keep in touch with their particular department of the work, by correspondence and shall make quarterly reports in writing to the Executive Board, and an annual report to the Society.

ARTICLE II.

The By-Laws may be amended under the same regulations as those governing changes in the Constitution.

MINUTES OF THE SIXTH ANNUAL MEETING.

Wednesday Evening.

The Sixth Annual Meeting of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of Oklahoma, held in the First Presbyterian Church at Shawnee, opened Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m., Nov. 6th, 1912.

Song, "Oh, Worship the King." Father Murrow led in prayer.

Mrs. W. A. McBride, the President, conducted the Devotional service. Theme: "Individual Responsibility." Scripture, Esther 4:14, "Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

The Roll of Associations was called and brief reports of the year's work were given by the President of each of the following Associations; viz: Atoka, Banner, Central District, Eastern District, Enon, Harmon, Lincoln County, Little River, Mullins, North Canadian, Pittsburg County, Pontotoc County, Pottawatomie County and Choctaw. An exhibit of 26 maps of associations, showed the location of the churches, the societies or churches contributing to Woman's Work, and those on the Honor Roll as having paid or overpaid their apportionment, helped much in understanding the work being done.

Father Murrow spoke to the report of our Indian sister, President of Choctaw (Indian) Association, and presented, from himself and Mrs. Murrow, to the W. B. M. S. of Oklahoma, a picture of Mrs. D. N. Robb, who was the first Corresponding Secretary of the "Choctaw and Chickasaw Women's Baptist Missionary Society" organized August 15, 1876. (For further information see President's Message in last year's Annual.) Mrs. McBride and Miss Howell thanked them for the gift and the Society expressed its appreciation by standing and giving them the "Chautauqua Salute."

Solo, "Keep the Pages White" was impressively sung by Rev. C. C. Elsey.

Miss Harriet P. Cooper, one of the General Workers of the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society, who was in our meeting in 1907 at Ardmore, was introduced and gave greetings from that Society.

Adjourned with prayer.

Thursday Morning, Nov. 7, 1912.

The Annual Meeting, proper, was called to order by the President at 9:00 a. m.

Mrs. R. D. Licklider, of Olivet Church, Oklahoma City, led the Devotional Hour. Theme: "The Christian's Possessions. Scripture: Eph. 1:6, 7; Rom. 5:1; II Pet. 1:4; John 17:24.

Meeting again with the women of Shawnee, seemed a home coming to the Baptist women, and a very cordial welcome was extended by Mrs. G. W. McCall, which was responded to by Mrs. L. J. Dyke.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT.

Dear Co-Workers:

What a flood of memories sweeps over those of us who were privileged to be in this ever memorable city of Shawnee six years ago today. November seventh, nineteen hundred and six was a red-letter day for the Baptists of Oklahoma.

The opening clause of the minutes of that occasion reads in this way:

"Wednesday afternoon, (Nov. 7th, 1906). At two o'clock a mass meeting composed of the women of Oklahoma and Indian Territories met in the Presbyterian Church of Shawnee to prepare for the organization of a new Missionary Society, covering the whole field."

Farther on in the record we find:

"The Doxology was sung, after which Miss Burdette led in the closing prayer, bespeaking for us more strength in order to accomplish the work which will come to us in the union of our forces in statehood."

Oh, wise, consecrated, dauntless Miss Burdette! Little did we dream how soon she would enter her glorious reward. We, today are enjoying the fruits of her labor and building upon the foundation she established. Into our hands has been committed the sacred trust of carrying on to successful fruition the work begun in pioneer days.

Looking into the faces of this earnest representation today, we are profoundly grateful for the interest, growth and co-operation during the first six years. Oh, the power of co-operation in bringing things to pass, and how we need it in the Baptist Churches of Oklahoma, numbering over eleven hundred, with only three hundred and ninety-six having a Missionary Society! Is this a satisfactory ratio? There are rich resources yet unclaimed for our Master's use; only by persistent, untiring effort may we lay hold of them in His name.

In order to reach our aim as an organization, which, as you well know, is "to cultivate a missionary spirit among the women and children of our state and aid in the world-wide spread of the Gospel," there are three pressing needs—prayer, study and effort. Let us never forget the power of prayer; it is the greatest work of a Christian. "Pray as though all depended on God, and, at the same time, work as though all depended upon you." Nothing lies beyond the reach of prayer, except that which lies outside the will of God.

During the past six years there has been a gratifying growth of interest in the study of Missions, leading up to new and larger opportunities on every side. Some one has said that it was no accident which led the risen Christ to appear, first of all, to the soul most in need of Him—a woman's. As we "Western Women" have entered, through our Mission Study this year, the homes of our sisters in "Eastern Lands," have we not realized that the NEED is still imperative? That our foreign sister is in the home land, and on distant fields is today sorely in need of that Christ, whose teachings we have made our lives and environment what we so casually accept, and for which we should be so immeasurably thankful.

As the centuries reveal fore fully the wonderful adaptation of our Lord's teachings to the needs of an advanced civilization, nowhere is its efficiency more evident than in its effect upon the life and destiny of woman.

In order to keep step with the social progress of the day, the twentieth century woman must be informed concerning the great mission movement, so as to align herself with every uplifting tendency, rendering that service which comes not alone from intelligent sympathy, but from a great desire for souls.

We have been told that "Missions is applied Christianity." Let us not fail to APPLY the lessons we have learned from the study-class or through the Mission Journals.

"Not ours to answer 'How' or 'Why'—
The Master knows the cause;
His ways are wise and just.
Who serves the King,
Must serve with perfect trust."

O, dear sisters, as we hear the message which thrills and fills and WILLS us to do for others, even as the Master has done for us, let us not put the impulse aside, and allow it to become choked by worldly cares or thorns of selfish pleasure and ease, but, "putting on the whole armor of God," let us "Go forward," entering with joy into the many ways of service outlined by those who have made methods a study, or in any other way in which the Holy Spirit may direct. "missionary spirit" is the attainment of the ideal presented last May in the Woman's Missionary Union meeting—"Every woman in the church a member of the missionary society." Still another, is to reach the "standard of excellence" as set by the general organizations, and the more recent one set by the State Secretary in the "Baptist Messenger," viz.: "Our Woman's Societies ought to be a strong missionary factor in ALL the work of the church, as well as in the distinctive work we plan for the women and children,—if it is not it has fallen far short of the ideal we have set for woman's organized work as a department of the church." Is your society a strong missionary factor in all the work of your local church—enlisting every woman in its holy endeavor? This standard will never be reached if the societies expect the President, or any member to bring it to pass—there must be a unity of purpose, a willing service from every one, and a deep realization of individual responsibility. No chain is stronger than its weakest link—no organization is stronger than its weakest member.

During this next year may we strive as never before to do that which the Master Builder has planned for our hands to do.

May I give you Henry Van Dyke's "Legend of Service" and ask you to make your own application:

"An angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, . . . and he rose and went."

The Lord of angels paused one day to hear a report from his messengers upon the earth. With joy or sorrow each told what he had seen. The youngest, Amisel, stood alone in earnest thought. When his turn came to speak, he said: "Lord, in the city of Lupton I found three of the servants renowned above the rest. One is very wise; one has the gift of golden speech; the third has no rare gift or grace, but he wins the people's hearts by doing good. Lord, I would know which loves thee best."

The Lord of Angels answered: "All men's hearts are open to me, and I well know which loves me best, but that you may know, go to each and say:

"Thy Master bids thee go to Spiran's huts across the snow; there you shall find a task to do for Him."

"The one who answers best thou shalt crown for me.

"The youngest angel passed that same hour through the gates of the city. He came to the temple where the people thronged to hear the gifted preacher. He, Bernol, knelt at the altar; the angel touched him, and gave the message. His face went white, and he answered, 'Why?' He faltered. The angel turned away. To the wise man intent on holy thought, the message was given. He saw the perils, and answered, 'How?' The angel was gone. The third was hurrying down the street on service bent; the angel stopped him with the message. Quick came the eager answer, 'When?' The angel answered, 'Now,' and crowned him with the golden circle from his brow, saying: 'Not ours to answer how or why. The Master knows the cause; His ways are wise and just. Who serves the King must serve with perfect trust.'"

Prayer by Mrs. T. C. Carleton.

Mrs. Mamie Salee Bryan, a missionary of the Southern Baptist Convention, at home on furlough from China, was introduced and brought greetings from the Woman's Missionary Union.

Miss Mary Register, also of W. M. U., who recently came to this state to work among the mining people at Coalgate, was also introduced.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE BOARD.

As we gather for this annual meeting in Shawnee, we are reminded of the time six years ago today, when, at this place, the women of the East side of the new state and those of the West side each met for the last time as separate societies, closed their business, then met together, and with Mrs. McBride as chairman, organized this Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of Oklahoma.

Year after year we have come together in the annual meeting, and heard the reports of the year's work as brought by the members of your Executive Board, into whose charge you commit the management of the work between sessions.

Each year we have been able to report some advance steps, and while the results of this year are not in proportion to the mercy and love of our Heavenly Father toward us, yet, in some respects the lines have advanced, or gone forward. For example:

In Systematic Giving.

The Treasurer's quarterly reports show that the societies that are well established are becoming more systematic in sending in the money regularly each quarter to meet their apportionment.

In Mission Study.

In no previous year has there been so great an interest manifested in Mission Study as has been awakened this year through the study book, "Western Women in Eastern Lands."

Your Corresponding Secretary-Treasurer will report as to the result financially.

The Board organized for work immediately after the annual meeting, electing Miss Mattie Curtis, Field Worker, and also Secretary of Junior and Baby Band Work, at a salary of $500 a year and expenses; re-elected Mrs. Wolfe Secretary of Young Woman's Work, and Miss Jayne Secretary of Library Department, and added Mrs. Mansfield, of Guthrie, to the Advisory Committee.

The Board decided that hereafter girls receiving scholarships or aid from Young Women's Societies, in taking a course in either of our training schools, shall be required to enter into a written contract with the Board to do at least two years' regular missionary work, or refund the money thus appropriated.

At the meeting of the Board in February, the report of Treasurer showed receipts not as large as during the first quarter last year, but it was thought to be due to the fact that money for state missions does not go through this treasury. The report of Field Work was especially encouraging.

Provision was made to secure a suitable typewriter for the Corresponding Secretary's office. The Corresponding Secretary was asked to represent the society in the meeting of the W. B. F. M. S. of the West at St. Louis.

A committee was appointed to select delegates to the W. M. U. meeting in Oklahoma City, and because of this meeting no plans were made for the usual mid-year conference.

It was agreed that the Secretary should arrange with Miss Gray and Miss Purviance to cancel their obligation for scholarships in the training schools by the payment of $200 each, time to be allowed as may be necessary.

The Board sent a message to the State Convention Board expressing its appreciation for the additional appropriation to our work this year.

Some 350 women of Oklahoma registered at W. M. U. headquarters May 15-19, and a conference of Oklahoma women was arranged for in connection with the Board meeting on the evening of the 17th, and all were invited to attend. Not all responded, however, because the Foreign Missions report at the S. B. C. was at the same hour; but some came who never met with us before, and more members of the Board were in attendance than at any other meeting of the year. The Corresponding Secretary's report showed that not enough money had come into the treasury to meet our obligation to the co-operating Boards for Home and Foreign Missions, and that the expense fund was very low. The discussion of this report developed into an informal conference as to the work in general, which seemed much like an annual meeting. The women were anxious about the deficit and some pledges were made.

Mrs. Stalcup and Miss Jayne, who were going to the N. B. C. at Des Moines, were asked to represent the society in the meeting of the W. A. B. H. M. S. Thus we have had representatives at all the annual meetings of our Co-operating Women's Societies this year.

Mrs. Merrill kindly invited the Board to hold its third quarterly meeting in her home. Each one who was present would gladly testify to the abundant hospitality of that home.

The Treasurer's report showed the financial standing to be just about the same as at the same time the previous year.

The Board advised the State Program Committee to outline six lessons on the Mission Study book entitled "China's New Day," and six lessons on Home Mission topics for the year 1912.

At the fourth quarterly meeting, held at this place yesterday, our President sounded the keynote for this meeting in devotional service: God our source of wisdom; and our one thought, to advance the kingdom in Oklahoma and to extend it to the uttermost parts of the earth.

A summary of the work of the Executive Board for the three quarters was read by the Recording Secretary and adopted as the report of the Executive Board to include also a summary of the meeting then in session.

The Board asked the Committee on Recommendations to recommend that the budget be made up on a ten per cent. increase on the receipts this year, and that it be apportioned to regularly organized societies; that this committee prepare a Standard of Excellence to present for consideration in annual meeting; also, that the plan of giving the tithe to the Lord's work be recommended.

Perhaps the drouth of last year has effected our work financially, to even a greater extent than last year, but let us press forward to higher attainments in the year to come, and keeping the heart open for the "wisdom that is from above," let us be "strong and very courageous."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. A. McBRIDE,
President.

MRS. LIZZIE HALSTED,
Recording Secretary.

The report was adopted.

The President appointed Committees as follows:

Enrollment.—Mrs. J. C. Stalcup, Oklahoma City; Mrs. J. D. Rinard, Ada; Miss Kate D. Perry, McAlester.

Resolutions.—Mrs. J. O. Kuykendall, Atoka; Mrs. I. B. Grubbs, Ardmore; Mrs. L. C. Winn, Stigler.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY-TREASURER.

1.—Report as Corresponding Secretary.

As I come to the close of our year's work and try to give an account of what has been accomplished, it is with some sadness of heart and feeling of regret that I realize how imperfectly my part of it has been done and how much left undone. This feeling is swiftly followed by an overwhelming sense of the loyal support I have received as I have worked, and of the many kind words of appreciation and love and sympathy which have found their way to my desk.

For these things I am deeply grateful, and while the report which follows is not all I could wish, I bring it to you with thanksgiving for the many blessings that have been received all along the way.

The regular meetings of the Board have always been a source of strength and inspiration, and the spirit of harmony and consecration to the whole work which pervades these meetings always gives new courage for the work of the succeeding quarter.

First, I wish to speak of the field. During the year there have been forty-four associations. In thirty-eight of these there has been a President doing more or less effective work, leaving six where no regular work was done by reason of the removal of the President early in the year and our failure to find any one willing to assume the responsibility of the work.

Many of our Presidents have been untiring in their zeal to build up the work in their association, but the same difficulties in establishing permanent work still face us. The constant change of pastors as well as the officers of our societies, is a very serious handicap to any rapid progress in stability of organization.

The Field Worker and myself were able to be present at the annual meetings of thirty-one of the associations. The progress which has been made in some of them is most gratifying. The increase in interest and attendance was very noticeable and there was much improvement in the planning and carrying out of the meetings.

A suggestive program for these meetings prepared by your Secretary was well received and in many associations partly or fully carried out.

In the yearly report received from twenty-nine association Presidents we find that forty-eight societies have been organized, making a total of three hundred and ninety-six societies at the present time.

The total number of letters written by these Presidents was 1821, talks made, 221; meetings attended, 232, and money received for their expense, $198.39.

Of these 396 societies only ninety have returned the annual report blank sent out October 1st, so that it is quite impossible to gather from them statistics which would in any adequate way represent the work.

One hundred and eighty of our societies ordered our State Program and many of them have studied it regularly. No part of the work has shown so much reason for encouragement as our Mission Study. The book, "Western Women in Eastern Lands," was received with great enthusiasm and many testimonials of interest taken in the study of it have been received. The test questions on the book, prepared and sent out from the office, met with goodly response. One hundred and sixty-one have been examined and approved to receive certificates of the B. G. C. for the work done.

Mission Study is truly a foundation stone in our work and one upon which we can build with great certainty. This leads me to say that I believe the time has come when our society ought to have a Personal Service Department through which the knowledge and inspiration of the study of missions may find a means of expression.

Is it not time also to adopt a Standard of Excellence, an ideal toward which we can work, and an incentive to spur us on to our best endeavor.

We are indebted to the W. M. U. of Baltimore for the services of Miss Nancy Lee Swan, who spent three weeks in the state and brought an up-lift and larger vision to many of our women.

In our gifts we have made no advance, as the Treasurer's report will show. Last year we felt that the industrial conditions were largely responsible for our failure to reach our aim, and perhaps it is no less true this year. God forbid that we should take advantage of this to excuse ourselves. Personally, I believe that many societies have made a heroic effort to do their part, but on the other hand, if the indifferent and unenlisted ones had pulled their share of the load we could have reached the top of the hill with songs of joy.

The same question is ever before us. How can we reach the nine-tenths who are uninterested and inactive.

During the year 254 societies have contributed to the work, 154 have gained a place on the Honor Roll and 81 have overpaid on their appointment.

The work of the office has been the usual routine. Much literature has been sent out for special programs.

A special program was prepared for State Mission study and also for Enlistment Day, and the societies were urged to follow the plan adopted last year, of giving individually through the church offering to state missions.

Following the annual meeting last year and preceding this one, I was assisted in the heaviest work of the office by our Field Worker, who proved her ability and willingness to serve there as well as on the field.

I was privileged to be in attendance at the annual meeting of the society of the West, in St. Louis in April, and in the W. M. U. in Oklahoma City in May.

These meetings are invaluable in helping one to get a grasp on the work which these great societies do and the part they expect of us, and I deeply appreciate the opportunity. A day was spent in the annual meeting of the Kansas Baptist women at Arkansas City, and was very much enjoyed. Upon invitation your Secretary was very glad to extend to them the greetings of our Oklahoma woman's organization.

I have tried to give you a faithful account of the year, and the statistics which follow will supplement what I have said.

I ask your prayers that God will use it for the extension of His kingdom, overruling the mistakes and forgiving any neglect which He may see.

In this connection she read letters of greeting to this body from the Corresponding Secretary of each of these Co-operating Societies. She also stated that forty-five who have received training in the Baptist Missionary Training School have worked in Oklahoma. Five of these were present.

The report of the Treasury was adopted.

The Recording Secretary read the following report:

ANNUAL REPORT OF AUDITOR.

To Whom It may Concern:

This is to certify that I have carefully examined the books and vouchers of Miss Sue O. Howell, Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of Oklahoma, from November 1st, 1911 to October 31st, 1912.

I find vouchers for all money expended, all calculations correct, and that the cash on hand, as shown by her books, agrees with the statement of the bank.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWIN H. RISHEL.

The report was adopted with gratitude for his services.

The Field Worker presented a map showing the extent of her travels during the year, and delivered the following address and report of her work:

OUR FIELD AND ITS NEEDS.

As I look back over the past year, my heart is filled with gratitude and praise to our Heavenly Father in that I was counted worthy to share with you the task of leading the hosts of heroic women of Oklahoma into larger fields of service.

The year has been one of great opportunity along all lines of Christian work. It might well be termed a year of travel among the different fields of Missionary activity in the state, since forty of the fifty-two weeks in your service have been spent on the field.

A close study of the map "Travels of the Field Worker" will indicate the scope of territory covered and the number of points reached during the year, as well as give you some idea of the vastness of our field.

Three weeks at the very beginning of the year were spent in the office becoming more familiar from an inner view-point with the work at large over the state.

Work on the field began with a hurried visit to the Associational Presidents in the Southwest, followed by a series of Missionary and Educational Rallies in two of the Associations. Usually an all-day and evening session was held in each place.

During the months of January and February the work was greatly handicapped by the unusually severe weather and various contagious diseases. In spite of the many hardships, the women rallied to the call of their leaders, and came in numbers to greet your worker who visited one and sometimes two churches each day during these months.

In March, a swing around the circle was made in company with Miss Swann the W. M. U. representative from Baltimore to our state. Eleven places were visited. Several Societies had arranged for all-day Associational Rallies. The women have expressed deep appreciation of her splendid presentation of the work, as well as her inspirational addresses that were given in the different places visited.

Two of the Indian Missions and forty-nine white churches were visited during May and June. A week's sojourn at Monte Ne, Arkansas, attending the Y. W. C. A. Conference added much to the enthusiasm and spiritual life of your representative.

In July, another series of Associational Rallies in the northwest claimed our time and attention. This brought us up to the Annual meetings of the Associations over the state. Twenty were attended by your Field Worker. Here she had a splendid opportunity of touching hands and hearts with the faithful women of Oklahoma, and presenting to them our work with a brief message from you. Two Associational Societies were organized and four were re-organized.

During the year, fifty-six of the seventy six counties in Oklahoma have been touched in our work, twenty Associational presidents have been visited, and consulted about the work in their respective associations, twenty Missionary Rallies have been participated in, and field work has been done in nineteen Associations. In all, 9980 miles have been traveled at a cost of $236.03.

Through our visitation we are led to believe that the work in our Missionary Societies is becoming stronger. God is spreading out before us such opportunities for the giving of the Gospel to the women and children of Oklahoma, as have never been put before any other generation. What are we going to do with it all?

The possible growth and development of the work is so tremendous that one marvels at the privilege for service open to the women. To "lift up your eyes and look on the field" is to want to spend and be spent in the Master's service.

With the presentation of the work in such a way as to call out as leaders many of the yet unenlisted women of our churches, with a definite emphasis on the training for service the young women and children of our denomination, our women's societies will enter into a larger work for the Master.

"Just where you are in the conflict,
There is your place!
Just where you think you are useless,
Hide not your face.
Out in the fight or on picket,
Stand firm and true!
This is the work which the Master
Gives you to do."

A Young Woman's Hour was conducted by Mrs. L. C. Wolfe, Secretary of Young Woman's Work, as follows:

Duet and Chorus, "Why Stand Ye Here Idle?"

Talk—Miss Lutie Halley of Shawnee.

She said that the reason we are not doing all in our power to win the world to Christ, is because of ignorance of the work and failure to catch His vision of the world waiting to be brought to Him; that the aim of a Young Woman's Society is: To study the Bible and Missions; that the results cannot all be told, but some are:

1. The spiritual life is developed.
2. Desire for knowledge is increased.
3. Some are led to give their lives to special mission work.
4. It better prepares one for service at home.
5. Increases desire to give to support the work, thus giving the Gospel to more people.

Reading, "A Missionary Parable," by Miss Annie Laurie Fricks, Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Wolfe, after first showing that the Young Woman's place is no more in the Woman's Missionary Society than it is in the Sunday School class with the elderly people, gave an address on "Duties a Woman's Missionary Society owes to the young women," from which we note:

1st: To help them to organize and to spare one of the best and the most enthusiastic women to meet with them and help them.

2nd: To recognize them as an organization, holding joint meetings (say quarterly) sharing program and offering with them.

3rd: Training. Train till training brings results. Lift them up and help them to stand.

4th: To encourage. The loving personal touch plays a wonderful part in Christ's ministry.

5th: To give a good example. The seed we sow will bear fruit of its kind.

6th: A purpose or object for which to work.

7th: Promptness in helping them. What we do for them must be done quickly.

Not only do we owe these things to our young women for their success and for the advancement of the cause, but it is "only thus that we can build for our work a solid foundation." If we want to build up and perpetuate Woman's Missionary Societies, we cannot—we dare not neglect our Young Women.

'Be strong!

We are not here to play, to dream, to drift,
We have hard work to do, and loads to lift.
Shun not the struggle; face it. 'Tis God's gift.

Be strong!

Say not the days are evil—Who's to blame?
And fold the hands and acquiesce—O shame!
Stand up, speak out, and bravely, in God's name.

Be strong!

It matters not how deep intrenched the wrong;
How hard the battle goes, the day, how long,
Faint not, fight on! Tomorrow comes the song."

Song, "Wonderful Words of Life."

Miss Harriet P. Coper, General Worker of the W. A. B. H. M. S. with headquarters at Chicago, gave an inspiring address on "My Neighbor," being a comprehensive outline of the work that Society is doing on the Home Field. She spoke of the people of many races and color, speaking 40 different languages, living in our own land, and millions of them knowing nothing of Christ as a personal Savior—our neighbors, very near. She told of the work among the Indians, Mormons, foreigners in the mining districts and Japanese on the coast. She pictured the volcanic eruption of June 6th in Alaska, which wrought such havoc at the Orphanage where 250 boys and girls in the midst of their distress and fear sang praises to God; she told of the work in Porto Rico and of the millions who need our help in Mexico, and appealed to the love for our neighbor and for our Master which should prompt us to give of our means and our prayers that the Gospel may be preached to every creature.

Adjourned for the noon hour with prayer led by Miss Jayne.

Thursday Afternoon, 2:00 P. M.

Devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Stubblefield. Theme: "Abiding in Christ." Scripture, John 15:1-7.

Mrs. J. C. Killian, who accompanies and assists her husband in his work with Chapel Car "Evangel," was introduced and greeting the Society in the name of the A. B. P. S. briefly told of the work done by them in our state the past year, from which we note the following: Church buildings at Pittsburg and Hastings; 126 conversions, and 106 of these baptized, besides others received by letter and relation.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RECOMMENDATIONS.

We, your Committee on Recommendations submit the following:

With deep gratitude to our Heavenly Father for the mercies, blessings, opportunities and results of the past year, and for the continued and increasingly faithful labors of our women in the churches, we recommend:

FIRST: A careful observance of the devotional and prayer service at every session of our women's societies, and a deeper interest in the lesson study as outlined by the State Program Committee. We recommend the larger use of our Missionary Traveling Libraries; the organization of mission study classes, where possible; the continued co-operation with our other Baptist organizations in institute work, and the inauguration of Associational rallies of our women's missionary societies, at special times, on Fifth Sunday Meetings.

SECOND: We recommend that our women continue, with increased vigor and vigilance, their efforts to suppress intemperance in all its forms and to give their energy and influence to save our Young People from the degrading effects of all social evils.

THIRD: There appears to be an increasing interest in the study of the Doctrine of "Tithing," which is manifesting itself in more systematic and generous offerings. We, therefore, recommend that all of our women study this important question and make the Scriptures their guide in this matter as well as all others.

FOURTH: We would recommend again to the local societies the raising of an annual expense fund to be used by Associational Presidents in the prosecution of their work.

FIFTH: We recommend the observance of Enlistment day in October.

SIXTH: We recommend that the Corresponding Secretary be requested to ask from our Co-operating Women's Societies the same as sistance as hitherto has been so generously given, and also the same amount from our State Convention.

SEVENTH: We recommend for our Watchword this year: "Enlarge the Place of Thy Tent." Isa. 54:2.

EIGHTH: We recommend the following apportionment for this year:

Home Missions	$1,300
Foreign Missions	1,300
Training Schools	400
Expense Fund	1,500
Total	$4,500

and that this amount be apportioned only among organized societies.

NINTH: Noting from our statistics, we find only 400 Women's Societies and over 1,200 church organizations, this brings to us forcibly the great need of field work. We therefore recommend the continuance of a field worker, and ask that special attention be given this coming year to the development of missionary interest and organization among women, young women and children.

TENTH: We recommend that each Woman's Missionary Society be urged to take the responsibility of organizing a Young Woman's Missionary Society and Children's Societies or helping them to work through their Baptist Young Peoples Union or organized Sunday School classes, sparing one of their most enthusiastic women for this purpose.

ELEVENTH: We recommend the following "Standard of Excellence" for our local Societies:

1. At least twelve meetings a year with a devotional service and a definite missionary program.
2. The payment of the full apportionment.
3. An increase in membership.
4. A list of subscribers to our Missionary Magazines.
5. An annual report sent to the Corresponding Secretary.
6. Observance of at least one day of prayer for Missions.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. E. DICKEN, Chairman.

These were adopted article by article as printed above, then adopted as a whole.

Annual Report of the State Program Committee.

Your committee believes, as has often been said, that our uniform State Program for Mission Study is one of the strongest elements in our work.

Results are showing that it is an important factor in binding our Societies together in all the work for which our woman's organization stands, and thereby developing a strong state organization through which we hope to accomplish great things after the days of laying foundations are over.

Our last year's study was very gratifying. The subject of a Study Book for this year was presented to the Board at its third quarterly meeting and it was unanimously decided to arrange a study of the book "China's New Day" for the first six months with various Home Mission topics for the last six months.

As China is now very much in the eyes of the world it seemed a very auspicious time for this study and we would urge all Societies to improve this opportunity.

Test questions will be furnished and Certificates awarded in recognition of work done.

SUE O HOWELL, Chairman.

ANNUAL REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OBITUARIES.

"There is a Reaper whose name is Death." He is no respecter of persons, for he cuts down alike the king in his palace and the peasant in his hut; the idler in the market place as well as the faithful laborer in the vineyard.

For the believer in Christ, this relentless monster has no terrors. He is only a messenger bringing the summons, "Come up Higher."

During the year just closed, many of our sisters were called from labor to rest, from service to reward. We can mention, of course, only those whose names have been given who are the following: Mrs. G. P. Selvidge, Ardmore; Mrs. W. A. Jolly, Okeemah; Mrs. Rayner, Stigler; Mrs. Charles Stringer, Mrs. Burnyard, Mrs. Joe Wynn, Mrs. M. B. Phillips, Pontotoc Association; Mrs. J. J. Berry, Mrs. Nettie Lander milk, Chickasha; Mrs. C. P. Butler, Maud; Mrs. Cora Woods, Miss Zula A. Thomas, Coalgate; and Mrs. Eliza Choate, Choate Prairie, Pittsburg County.

Miss Thomas was one of our Louisville Training School Girls, sent as a missionary to Coalgate by the Home Board of Atlanta, but who was supported by the girls of Virginia. In the short time that she was at Coalgate she accomplished much and won a large place in the hearts of all who knew her. Only failure in health induced her to abandon the work and return to her home in Virginia.

Mrs. Choate, one of our Indian sisters was pure gold, in full sympathy with all our work, and her home was noted for its cordial hospitality.

Let us emulate their Christian example that when the call shall come to us, we, too, shall hear, "Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

We would also record the going home of Mary Murrow Butler, beloved little granddaughter of our President, and express our love and sympathy to the household.

Respectfully submitted,

KATE D. PERRY,

MRS. M. BURKS,

MRS. M. M. ROGERS.

Report adopted.

A Symposium on Mission Study was given by Miss Howell, Miss Curtis and Dr. Mooror.

Miss Howell made the study of Missions very practical by using an outline showing why, when and how, to study missions, and applied it to the use of our State Program.

Miss Curtis followed telling of the importance of using illustrations in the study of missions, as much that we retain comes by way of the eye.

Dr. Mooror followed urging that women give expression to that which is gathered in the Missionary meetings by teaching, in the Sunday School, from a missionary point of view, God's Word which is essentially missionary, it being the story of how a missionary God is winning a world back to himself.

It was a pleasure to know that this efficient corps of instructors, using this same method would conduct a Mission Study Class on "China's New Day," each morning of the Convention at 8:00 o'clock.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SECRETARY OF JUNIOR WORK AND BABY BANDS.

In summing up the year's work, it seems so little has been done, yet how grateful we are for the loyal Bands with their noble Leaders, who have continued faithfully on in their work of character building.

Thirteen new Bands have been organized during the year. Some that had disbanded plan to renew their activities.

Of the 396 Women's Societies in Oklahoma, only fifty are training their children in missions. Many of those who have done nothing expressed a realization of its importance and a willingness to do some thing if only a leader could be found.

No appointments were given the Juniors this year. Only $16.25 was received from four societies.

Four Baby Bands have been organized, twelve annual and two life certificates issued during the year.

No question coming before us at this Annual Meeting should be more carefully, prayerfully, thoughtfully and earnestly considered than that of enlisting and training the boys and girls of Junior age. Some feasible plan for their training with reference to their future, making character building the dominant note, should be decided upon, and then each individual society should at once take up the strengthening of the organizations now existing, and our Executive officers make a ceaseless appeal and campaign to awaken Societies who are not fostering Juvenile organizations.

We need the best thoughts and heartiest co-operation of every worker in the development of this part of the work the coming year. Let us keep nothing back but share with every other worker any and every successful plan.

Respectfully submitted,

MATTIE CURTIS.

An open conference was held. Talks were made by Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Stealey, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Killian, Mrs. Bryan and Mrs. Clouse, emphasizing its importance and telling of the work being done. Frequent reference was made throughout the meeting to Miss Heck's illustration of the unstable building we are forming by Woman's Societies failing to nurture children's and young people's organizations. (See W. M. U. 1912, Report page 10.)

Another beautiful reading was given by Annie Laurie Fricks, on "The Boy Who Rang the Bell."

Report adopted.

Report of Missionary Traveling Library Work.

Our work had its beginning with the beginning of the united Societies of the new state. From a small beginning, it has made considerable growth and from year to year the number of libraries has increased, until we now have thirty-two sets of books at work. Most of our libraries have been love offerings and memorials for friends or relatives, or have been given in honor of some of the workers in the state.

Each library consists of ten books on mission subjects, placed in a good box, and sent from one point to another among our churches, women's societies, and Sunday Schools.

We are trying to interest many more in the use of the books, for they are well worth reading.

The possibilities of the libraries are great. If read, they will certainly create and stimulate a taste for missionary reading.

Those who are interested in missions read these books eagerly; those who are not, are encouraged to read them.

The reading of the ten books might often lead to the formation of missionary libraries in the church, society or Sunday School. These, as the years come and go, would become increasingly valuable as books of reference in the study of the Mission Study books and Programs.

We greatly need in each church, to make the libraries of still greater use, a woman with a vision, who will be willing to read the books herself, tell the stories to others as she meets them, encourage others to read them, be willing to keep the records of the reading of the books, and answer letters written to her by the Secretary of the library work.

I feel that there is a wonderful future for our library work, and am ready to do what I can to help keep the books in circulation. I need your help and co-operation in the work of the coming year.

Your Sister,

MARY P. JAYNE.

Mrs. Mamie Sallee Bryan of China, representative of W. M. U. then gave an address, telling of her work at Shanghai, China. She told of her first work among the children of the Baptist churches of Shanghai; of a work she did later among street children accompanied by a Bible woman and three school girls; of teaching in a girl's school which she saw grow from 40 to 500 girls; of her last work in a school for the wives and children of students in the Seminary under both N. B. C. and S. B. C.;

that the women of this school were all Christians when she left, six being baptized on Thursday before she came away; that the message they sent to us is:

1. "We want the women in the homeland to pray that we may be equal to the opportunities before us.
2. Pray for our own families that they may be Christians, that they may believe.
3. Thank the women in the homeland for sending us the Gospel."

She spoke of the great help that may be rendered by prayer, telling of a missionary who one day was so successful and so encouraged and blessed in her work and looking at her calendar found it was the day when the home people were praying for her.

Some curios were shown, viz: chop-sticks, long finger-nail, and a robe.

The President appointed tellers and prepared for election of officers by ballot; but a motion to re-elect Mrs. McBride president by acclamation prevailed, and she was unanimously re-elected by standing vote and given the Chatauqua salute. And in quick succession each officer was re-elected in the same way.

The committee on Enrollment reported messengers. 101; visitors, 22; total, 123; the highest enrollment of messengers reached. Adopted. The record of visitors is only of women. We were glad to note the increase in the number of pastors who visited our meeting this year.

An offering of $11.60 was made to defray the expense of printing the Standard of Excellence and the Recommendations to be sent out for distribution among all the women.

The Recording Secretary read the following notice:

The Executive Board gives notice that the following changes in Constitution will be voted on at Annual Meeting:

That the last clause of Article V. shall be stricken out.

Also the word "state" shall be omitted from the last part of the 4th clause of Section 4 in the By-laws.

One month's notice having been given each local society and the same being the policy of the Society as adopted by recommendation VI. of last year, it was, without discussion, unanimously adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions reported through its chairman, Mrs. Kuykendall, as follows:

We, your Committee on Resolutions, submit the following:

WHEREAS, Our Heavenly Father has permitted us to meet again in our Annual meeting after a year of service in the extension of his Kingdom,

RESOLVED, 1st, That we show our devotion and loyalty to His Cause by giving ourselves more freely to the work the coming year, and doing more effective service for our Master.

RESOLVED, 2nd, That we extend our thanks to the W. M. U. for sending their representative, Mrs. Mamie S. Bryan of China, and to the W. A. B. M. S. for sending to us Miss Harriet P. Cooper, with their inspirational messages. And that we thank the Corresponding Secretaries of W. M. U., W. A. B. M. S. and W. B. F. M. S. of the west for their written messages read at our meeting, and pledge to them our co-operation in the future as in the past.

RESOLVED: 3rd, That we appreciate the work of our Association-al Presidents in their efforts to build up mission societies and enlist our women in mission study.

RESOLVED: 4th, That we appreciate the faithfulness and efficient work done by our state officers, and the Baptist papers for space given to the woman's work.

RESOLVED: 5th, That we express our thanks to the First Presbyterian church for the use of their building for our Woman's Meeting, and to the good people of Shawnee for their hospitality.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. O. KUYRKENDALL ,

MRS. I. B. GRUBBS,

MRS. L. C. WINN.

Adopted.

This completed the business of the Annual Meeting.

Mrs. Dicken having to leave before this hour, the Consecration Service was omitted, and on motion to adjourn we were dismissed with prayer led by Miss Register of Coalgate.

In Executive Board meeting held Nov. 9th, Minutes of Annual Meeting were read and approved. The Field Worker, Secretaries of Departments and Advisory Committee were all re-elected. The salary of the Corresponding Secretary was increased to $720.00 per year; that of the Field Worker to $600.00 per year.

We wish to make special mention of the "Mission Study Class," conducted by Miss Howell, Miss Curtis and Dr. Moorner, holding early morning sessions Nov. 8th, 9th, and 10th, and covering the first three chapters of "China's

New Day;" Miss Howell outlining the lesson and conducting the study of the subject-matter of the chapter; Miss Curtis illustrating the facts taught by pictures, charts, objects, etc., all of which could be worked out in the local society; and Dr. Moorer taking the stories of the chapter and facts set out, showed how to make them interesting and profitable to boys and girls in the Sunday School. Those attending this class caught a new vision of the possibilities of Mission Study which will no doubt add greatly to the results effected in the study of the book the coming year. We owe a debt of gratitude to these faithful instructors who made such careful preparation for this work.

On Saturday 1:30 to 2:00 P. M., the women of Shawnee gave the visiting women a delightful automobile drive to see our Baptist University (under construction) and over their beautiful city.

This Sixth Annual Meeting, so harmonious and spiritual, in many respects the best and largest we have had, may we not expect the influences going out from it to call forth the best effort and most willing service we have yet rendered in His cause in the year just beginning?

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. KIZZIE HALSTED,

Recording Secretary.
